YULE TREE — The Ashville Community Club erected the village Christmas tree Wednesday near the Post Office. The tree, a Norway spruce, was donated by Mrs. Lowell Cooper in memory of her mother, Clara Creiger, who planted it 20 years ago. On Dec. 22, Santa will be on hand to distribute treats to the village children.

Former Soldiers May Face Trial For Viet Massacre

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials may invoke two never-before-tested sections of the military justice code to try any former soldiers accused in the alleged My Lai massacre.

One of these is Article 18, generally applying to war crimes, and the other is Article 21 which, lawyers said, was intended to preserve common law permitting military commissions to sit in criminal cases.

Fifteen of the 24 men now under investigation, but not yet charged, have returned to civilian life since the alleged mass slaying of more than 100 South

Vietnamese civilians on March 16, 1968.

Prosecution of the nine soldiers still on active duty poses no legal problem. They clearly are subject to the military justice code under which 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. faces court martial on premeditated murder charges and S. Sgt. David Mitchell has been charged with assault with intent to kill.

However, serious questions confront government legal authorities on the course to follow in trying to prosecute any of the ex-soldiers deemed to have been involved.

This is because the Supreme Court in 1955 rejected military court martial for former servicemen in freeing a discharged Air Force sergeant who had been arrested by military authorities and flown to Korea to face a murder charge after he had gone back to civilian life.

Lawyers for the Pentagon, the Justice Department and other federal agencies have been studying possible courses of action against ex-soldiers in the My Lai case.

Senior legal officers said a likely path would be to try to invoke either Article 18 or Article 21 or both. They said the sections have not yet been tested before the Supreme Court.

The lawyers cite also what they call "the law of nations" as applying to civilians as well as military men.

This is an apparent reference to Geneva conventions covering treatment of prisoners of war and civilians in wartime.

Scientist Study Moon Samples From Second Box

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists today open the second box of Apollo 12 moon rocks, a chest containing carefully documented samples and soil gouged from more than two feet beneath the surface.

The space agency also plans to release 29 more color pictures taken during man's second moon-landing mission. Officials Thursday released spectacular color and black and white photos and color movies of the two moon walks, a fascinating earthly eclipse of the sun and other highlights of the mission.

Geologists are eager to open the second chest to begin examination of 12 to 15 bags of rocks that were photographed and labeled by the astronauts before packing.

And one of the core tubes, which the astronauts pounded into the surface, is packed with soil from 24 to 39 inches deep. Scientists believe that deadly radiation from the sun does not penetrate this deep and that if there is any form of life on the moon it might have been captured by the tube.

They emphasize, however, that evidence from Apollo 11 and unmanned probes indicates the chance of lunar life is extremely remote.

The Apollo 12 astronauts—Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean—landed in their quarantine trailer aboard the carrier Hornet, which recovered them from the South Pacific Monday.

The Hornet is to reach Hawaii about 9 p.m. EST tonight. There the trailer will be transferred to a jet cargo plane for a flight to the quarantine laboratory at Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center. The astronauts face 11 more days of isolation after they reach Houston early Saturday.

Thursday, a glum Gordon went through the traditional initiation into the royal domain of Neptune Rex—an equator-crossing tradition that dates back many years—while his two astronaut coplots roared with laughter.

Experts in the laboratory continued to catalogue and pack into vacuum cans the stones from the first chest, which was opened Wednesday. They reported most of the samples were larger than rocks collected by the Apollo 11 astronauts in July and that the largest was seven inches long and weighed four pounds.

The samples and the grey dust that covers them are handled in a vacuum chamber by technicians who extend hands through gloveports to avoid exposure to the lunar material.

The first rocks examined were generally lighter in color than Apollo 11's samples, but appeared to have similar structure. Detailed examination starts later.

Excavation Turns Up Ancient Walls

CINCINNATI (AP) — A University of Cincinnati excavation team, which went to a Greek island this summer to prepare it as a tourist site, made some surprising discoveries.

The team uncovered walls of even older buildings than it had turned up in seven previous expeditions to the island of Kea in the Aegean Sea, professor John Caskey disclosed Thursday.

Caskey, head of the UC classics department and director of the excavations, said that the team also found pottery "saucers," characteristic of Early Helladic II (2500-2200 B. C.), and red and black glassy wares. Among the wares were two cups of the Trojan type. So were several marble figurines and a pottery animal holding a bowl between its forepaws, all of which were characteristically Cycladic.

Caskey said that the Kea-11 miles from the Greek mainland—was originally chosen for excavation as it was on a route followed by ancient trading vessels. The seven expeditions had proved Caskey's theory that Kea, which had a fine harbor, had been an important trading port along the route.

William Kittredge, a team member from Cincinnati, said that work this year had been planned primarily to prepare parts of Kea as historical monuments and tourist attractions.

Nixon Spends 4-Day Holiday At Key Biscayne

KEY BISCAINE, Fla. (AP) — Stretching the holiday into a four-day weekend, President Nixon relaxed today with his family at their Key Biscayne home and was expected to do some work on the federal budget.

A White House spokesman said Nixon would probably also work on a speech he will deliver at a White House conference Tuesday on food, health and nutrition.

Nixon Moves Softly In Enforcing School Integration

By DOUGLAS E. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon didn't exactly leap up and shout "Huzzah" on Oct. 29—the day the Supreme Court decreed that laggard schools must desegregate immediately.

This was no surprise. The surprise came a bit later, when the Justice Department asked for more delay, instead of more speed.

But Nixon's lack of enthusiasm for comment on the decision day was in the pattern of the past—in line with reactions of other presidents.

The reluctance goes back to 1954 and a jolting Supreme Court ruling that separate but equal schools for Negroes don't square with the equal protection of the Constitution guarantees all citizens. Then, and from then on, Supreme Court decisions and supporting decisions of lower courts have attacked segregation and put presidents on the spot.

Starting with Dwight D. Eisenhower, the White House encountered the trauma and political repercussions that can accompany efforts to achieve unity and racial equality among blacks and whites.

If they felt they should speak up, or act to reinforce court rulings, they risked offending conservatives, segregationists and the South. If they wanted to sit tight, they invited the wrath of liberals and segments of the North.

Accordingly, through the presidential terms of Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, integration edicts tended to draw from these Nixon predecessors muted or tentative public statements—or none at all. And with the Supreme Court having said in 1955 that "all deliberate speed" would be all right—it discarded that standard Oct. 29—there was no stampede to carry out desegregation.

But when it came to coping with violent resistance and to enforcing the law as restated by the Supreme Court, neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy hesitated at calling out troops, regardless of how repugnant this was to southerners or anyone else. So it was that troops were deployed in Little Rock, Ark., in 1957 and Oxford, Miss., in 1962.

It had been three years in the one instance, eight in the other, since Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the breakthrough opinion against segregation. Two days later, Eisenhower held a news conference and he was asked whether he had any advice to give the South as to how to react.

"Not in the slightest," the President replied. "The Supreme Court has spoken and I am sworn to uphold the constitutional process in this country; and I will obey."

He did say, though, that he thought Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina had made a very fine statement in saying: "Let's be calm and let's be reasonable and let's look this thing in the face."

Eisenhower came through clearly three years later when he called out troops to get nine Negro children admitted to Little Rock's Central High School.

"Mob rule," he told the nation on radio-TV, "cannot be allowed to override the decisions of our courts."

While Eisenhower acted firmly and promptly on the advice of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, word got around that actually he had some doubts about his decision to use troops, felt he had been trapped, and took it out on some of the people around him.

At Oxford, Miss., in 1962, where two people were killed and many wounded, Kennedy ordered in troops and helped James Meredith break the color barrier at the state university.

Witnesses Ignore Military Judge

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — An Army judge says his order for potential witnesses not to discuss My Lai slaying case in public is being defied and has called a meeting of attorneys today.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy, who will establish the Army's legal guidelines in the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., announced Thursday his plans to call the closed session "to come to some kind of conclusion about defiance of an order to witnesses... to quit talking to the press."

He gave no indication of the action contemplated.

"I can understand almost anything except this continuous interrogation of witnesses and potential witnesses and the publication of what they say before it is said in court," Kennedy said. "Something just has to be done about this."

Calley, a 26-year-old former platoon commander in Company C, 1st Battalion, 11th Infantry Brigade, is charged with murdering 109 South Vietnamese civilians at the village of My Lai on March 16, 1968.

The Army said Monday it plans to bring Calley before a general court-martial.

A day later, Kennedy, who is senior trial judge in the judge advocate's section here, ordered that potential witnesses be instructed to discuss the case before trial only with attorneys involved or Calley.

In Saigon, Thursday, South Vietnamese Sen. Tran Van Don said members of his Defense Committee and the Senate Interior Committee will go to Quang Ngai Province shortly to investigate reports of the slaying.

"We do not know where the truth is and we want to verify what happened," he said.

S. Sgt. David Mitchell has been charged with assault with intent to murder and the U.S. Army says it is investigating 24 soldiers and ex-soldiers in the case.

In London, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said President Nixon can continue to count on British backing of U.S. policy in Vietnam even if a massacre occurred.

He said U.S. aims in Vietnam are just and "I don't see that it is disproved because it is claimed, or even that it is proved, that there has been this atrocity..."

"If it were," he continued, "we ought to have dismissed the North Vietnamese case long ago because the deliberate killing of civilians... has been a part of the North Vietnamese method for a long time."

Calley is under no form of confinement here and is going about his duties as an aide to Col. Talton W. Long, deputy post commander. After his trial was ordered, he was forbidden to leave the Columbus, Ga., area without permission.

Battle Action Reported Light During Holiday

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. battlefield casualties in "nearly nine years of the Vietnam war" reached the 300,000 mark this week and nearly half of them occurred in the 18 months since the Paris peace talks began, official sources said today.

On the battlefield, communications said fighting was light. The Viet Cong ambushed 300 South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta and killed 36 men and wounded 12. There were no known enemy losses.

The U.S. Command reported 32 enemy rocket and shelling attacks during the night in which seven Americans were wounded. A spokesman said U.S. troops killed 47 enemy in battles near the demilitarized zone and south of Da Nang Thursday. Two Americans were killed and 18 were wounded in these clashes.

The U.S. Command casualty figures for the period from Jan. 1, 1961, through last Saturday showed 39,572 Americans killed in action, 258,779 wounded and 1,341 missing or captured.

While these figures total 299,692, officials said they do not include at least 308 Americans who have been killed or wounded from Sunday through today, and this puts total casualties over the 300,000 mark. The official casualty figures for this week won't be released until next Thursday.

The U.S. Command said 6,995 U.S. troops have died in Vietnam from accidents and other causes "not as the result of hostile action."

In the same nine-year period according to official figures, 575,249 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed.

Since the peace talks in Paris began May 13, 1968, official statistics show that 16,620 Americans have been killed and another 113,997 wounded.

The Vietnam war has become the third costliest foreign war for the United States, surpassed only by the two world wars.

End 2nd Week Of Arms Talks In Finland

Moscow Blast Doesn't Hinder Total Outlook

HELSINKI (AP) — U.S. and Soviet negotiators wound up two weeks of secret arms talks today in what was described as a favorable atmosphere despite a smattering of caustic comment from Moscow.

After a 105-minute session at the U.S. Embassy, the envoys agreed to meet again next Tuesday at the Soviet Embassy.

Today's session was the fifth private discussion between the two sides since the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) opened Nov. 17.

Conference sources estimated after today's meeting that the negotiators still have another week or two of discussions ahead before ending the preliminary round at Helsinki. The next stage is supposed to be full-scale negotiations.

A news blackout on how the talks are going prevailed again today as it has since the meetings began. By joint agreement, spokesmen for the two sides are saying nothing beyond announced.

Raise Minimums On FHA Notes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration announced today it will raise the minimums for purchase of government-insured loan notes to $25,000 for one and two year notes and to $15,000 for longer term notes.

Currently the minimum for all FHA-insured notes is $10,000. The new minimum will become effective on Dec. 1, said James V. Smith, administrator of the Agriculture Department's credit agency.

The notes are sold to private investors at interest rates reflecting the prevailing money market. The money from the sales is to finance FHA loans for family farm ownership, housing and rural community projects. In most cases, farm borrowers are charged only 5 per cent interest, with the government making up the difference on what it has to pay private investors—now ranging from 8.5 to 8.75 per cent.

Ohioan Works On Lubricant To Grease Way To Mars

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — The world still looks in awe at 10-day trips to the Moon but Marshall Dietrich already is looking to much longer missions—flights of up to two years to Mars and back.

Dietrich, a research project engineer with the Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Cleveland, may have a vital role in that trip. In a sense, he could grease the way to Mars.

His main job is in searching for lubricants and bearings that will function at 300-degrees below zero temperatures. He also is concerned with studying bearing performances.

His work is an integral part of the space agency's mission to Mars. On that flight, a nuclear powered spaceship is expected to carry 12 men and be launched from a space platform orbiting 150 to 200 miles above earth.

South Vietnam Won't Agree To Any Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government repeated today that it will never accept a coalition government in any form or grant territorial concessions to the Viet Cong.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry issued a statement to clear up what it termed a misunderstanding of remarks by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge after the 44th meeting of the Paris peace talks Wednesday.

Lodge had told newsmen the United States would be willing to talk to Hanoi about a new coalition government in South Vietnam, but stipulated that the Saigon government would have to ratify any agreement on this or any other question.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry said: "What resulted in the misunderstanding of Ambassador Cabot Lodge's statement by public opinion derived from the fact that the Vietnamese and American governments in their devotion to search for peace, have emphasized their readiness to discuss whatever problems are initiated by the other side. However, we will never accept coalition under whatever form and territorial concession to the Communists."

To build the space platform, spacemen hope to use shuttlecraft now being developed to make numerous trips from earth to space. Lubricants and bearings will be an important part of those trips.

"They'll make the shuttlecraft reusable," Dietrich said. "There'll be a lot more reliability and less time needed between overhauls on the shuttlecraft..."

"The first Mars launch window (a time when conditions are best for the flight) will come in November of 1981. If the flight was launched then, in accordance with present plans the 12-man crew would not arrive in Mars orbit until August 1, 1982."

"The spacecraft would orbit Mars until February of 1983 at which time two landing vehicles will descend to the surface."

The Lewis Space Craft Center is a major NASA facility and has been heavily involved in research for all the manned space flight programs.

Dietrich notes, however, that he has been with the space agency since 1956 and has never met an astronaut or attended a launching.

Woman Has 'Leisure Center' To Help Others Plan Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patsy Edwards says Americans, capable of great achievement on the job, sometimes can't find satisfying things to do in their leisure time.

So, for a fee of $27.50, she tries to help anyone who has that "ugh" feeling when days off roll around.

Her business is called "Creative Leisure." She and two part-time assistants provide suggestions for those who find weekends disappointing, vacations hard to fill and who dread retirement.

"People are getting more and more leisure time every year," 51-year-old Mrs. Edwards said. "The average man or woman has 25 hours a week of leisure time—and soon it will be up to 35 hours."

What's more, the pert, brunette housewife said, surveys show 30 per cent of all Americans are unhappy with the way they spend their free time.

A secretary in her 30s told Mrs. Edwards she felt a need to "express myself." But she didn't know where to begin.

Vocational interest tests indicated the client was highly interested in paleontology and archeology. Now the secretary spends six hours each weekend as a volunteer worker at the county museum.

A high school counselor and his wife were worried both about unfulfilling leisure hours and forthcoming retirement.

The wife was steered to a book study club. Her husband, oriented toward volunteer work in parks and a welding course that led to weekend mechanical chores.

A retired executive secretary, bored with efforts at creative writing, learned through testing—that although childless herself—she had a tremendous interest in youngsters.

It had been three years in the one instance, eight in the other, since Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the breakthrough opinion against segregation. Two days later, Eisenhower held a news conference and he was asked whether he had any advice to give the South as to how to react.

"Not in the slightest," the President replied. "The Supreme Court has spoken and I am sworn to uphold the constitutional process in this country; and I will obey."

He did say, though, that he thought Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina had made a very fine statement in saying: "Let's be calm and let's be reasonable and let's look this thing in the face."

Eisenhower came through clearly three years later when he called out troops to get nine Negro children admitted to Little Rock's Central High School.

"Mob rule," he told the nation on radio-TV, "cannot be allowed to override the decisions of our courts."

While Eisenhower acted firmly and promptly on the advice of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, word got around that actually he had some doubts about his decision to use troops, felt he had been trapped, and took it out on some of the people around him.

At Oxford, Miss., in 1962, where two people were killed and many wounded, Kennedy ordered in troops and helped James Meredith break the color barrier at the state university.

Witnesses Ignore Military Judge

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — An Army judge says his order for potential witnesses not to discuss My Lai slaying case in public is being defied and has called a meeting of attorneys today.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy, who will establish the Army's legal guidelines in the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., announced Thursday his plans to call the closed session "to come to some kind of conclusion about defiance of an order to witnesses... to quit talking to the press."

He gave no indication of the action contemplated.

"I can understand almost anything except this continuous interrogation of witnesses and potential witnesses and the publication of what they say before it is said in court," Kennedy said. "Something just has to be done about this."

Calley, a 26-year-old former platoon commander in Company C, 1st Battalion, 11th Infantry Brigade, is charged with murdering 109 South Vietnamese civilians at the village of My Lai on March 16, 1968.

The Army said Monday it plans to bring Calley before a general court-martial.

A day later, Kennedy, who is senior trial judge in the judge advocate's section here, ordered that potential witnesses be instructed to discuss the case before trial only with attorneys involved or Calley.

In Saigon, Thursday, South Vietnamese Sen. Tran Van Don said members of his Defense Committee and the Senate Interior Committee will go to Quang Ngai Province shortly to investigate reports of the slaying.

"We do not know where the truth is and we want to verify what happened," he said.

S. Sgt. David Mitchell has been charged with assault with intent to murder and the U.S. Army says it is investigating 24 soldiers and ex-soldiers in the case.

In London, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said President Nixon can continue to count on British backing of U.S. policy in Vietnam even if a massacre occurred.

He said U.S. aims in Vietnam are just and "I don't see that it is disproved because it is claimed, or even that it is proved, that there has been this atrocity..."

"If it were," he continued, "we ought to have dismissed the North Vietnamese case long ago because the deliberate killing of civilians... has been a part of the North Vietnamese method for a long time."

Calley is under no form of confinement here and is going about his duties as an aide to Col. Talton W. Long, deputy post commander. After his trial was ordered, he was forbidden to leave the Columbus, Ga., area without permission.

Battle Action Reported Light During Holiday

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. battlefield casualties in nearly nine years of the Vietnam war reached the 300,000 mark this week and nearly half of them occurred in the 18 months since the Paris peace talks began, official sources said today.

On the battlefield, communiques said fighting was light. The Viet Cong ambushed 300 South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta and killed 36 men and wounded 12. There were no known enemy losses.

The U.S. Command reported 32 enemy rocket and shelling attacks during the night in which seven Americans were wounded. A spokesman said U.S. troops killed 47 enemy in battles near the demilitarized zone and south of Da Nang Thursday. Two Americans were killed and 18 were wounded in these clashes.

The U.S. Command casualty figures for the period from Jan. 1, 1961, through last Saturday showed 39,572 Americans killed in action, 258,779 wounded and 1,341 missing or captured.

While these figures total 299,692, officials said they do not include at least 308 Americans who have been killed or wounded from Sunday through today, and this puts total casualties over the 300,000 mark. The official casualty figures for this week won't be released until next Thursday.

The U.S. Command said 6,995 U.S. troops have died in Vietnam from accidents and other causes "not as the result of hostile action."

In the same nine-year period according to official figures, 575,249 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed.

Since the peace talks in Paris began May 13, 1968, official statistics show that 16,620 Americans have been killed and another 113,997 wounded.

The Vietnam war has become the third costliest foreign war for the United States, surpassed only by the two world wars.

Ohioan Works On Lubricant To Grease Way To Mars

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — The world still looks in awe at 10-day trips to the Moon but Marshall Dietrich already is looking to much longer missions—flights of up to two years to Mars and back.

Dietrich, a research project engineer with the Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Cleveland, may have a vital role in that trip. In a sense, he could grease the way to Mars.

His main job is in searching for lubricants and bearings that will function at 300-degrees below zero temperatures. He also is concerned with studying bearing performances.

His work is an integral part of the space agency's mission to Mars. On that flight, a nuclear powered spaceship is expected to carry 12 men and be launched from a space platform orbiting 150 to 200 miles above earth.

To build the space platform, spacemen hope to use shuttlecraft now being developed to make numerous trips from earth into space. Lubricants and bearings will be an important part of those trips.

"They'll make the shuttlecraft reusable," Dietrich said. "There'll be a lot more reliability and less time needed between overhauls on the shuttlecraft..."

"The first Mars launch window (a time when conditions are best for the flight) will come in November of 1981. If the flight was launched then, in accordance with present plans the 12-man crew would not arrive in Mars orbit until August of 1982.

"The spacecraft would orbit Mars until February of 1983 at which time two landing vehicles will descend to the surface."

The Lewis Space Craft Center is a major NASA facility and has been heavily involved in research for all the manned space flight programs.

Dietrich notes, however, that he has been with the space agency since 1956 and has never met an astronaut or attended a "unching."

South Vietnam Won't Agree To Any Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government repeatedly today that it will never accept a coalition government in any form or grant territorial concessions to the Viet Cong.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry issued a statement to clear up what it termed a misunderstanding of remarks by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge after the 44th meeting of the Paris peace talks Wednesday.

Lodge had told newsmen the United States would be willing to talk to Hanoi about a new coalition government in South Vietnam, but stipulated that the Saigon government would have to ratify any agreement on this or any other question.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry said: "What resulted in the misunderstanding of Ambassador Cabot Lodge's statement by public opinion derived from the fact that the Vietnamese and American governments in their devotion to search for peace, have emphasized their readiness to discuss whatever problems are initiated by the other side. However, we will never accept coalition under whatever form and territorial concession to the Communists."

Woman Has 'Leisure Center' To Help Others Plan Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patsy Edwards says Americans, capable of great achievement on the job, sometimes can't find satisfying things to do in their leisure time.

So, for a fee of $27.50, she tries to help anyone who has that "ugh" feeling when days off roll around.

Her business is called "Creative Leisure." She and two part-time assistants provide suggestions for those who find weekends disappointing, vacations hard to fill and who dread retirement.

"People are getting more and more leisure time every year," 51-year-old Mrs. Edwards said. "The average man or woman has 25 hours a week of leisure time—and soon it will be up to 35 hours."

What's more, the pert, brunette housewife said, surveys show 30 per cent of all Americans are unhappy with the way they spend their free time.

A secretary in her 30s told Mrs. Edwards she felt a need to "express myself." But she didn't know where to begin.

Vocational interest tests indicated the client was highly interested in paleontology and archeology. Now the secretary spends six hours each weekend as a volunteer worker at the county museum.

A high school counselor and his wife were worried both about unfulfilling leisure hours and forthcoming retirement.

The wife was steered to a book study club. Her husband, oriented toward volunteer work in parks and a welding course that led to weekend mechanical chores.

A retired executive secretary, bored with efforts at creative writing, learned through testing that—although childless herself—she had a tremendous interest in youngsters.

Roundtown

AROUND Roundtown, preparations are underway for the arrival of 'Jolly Ole St. Nick' and the opening of the Christmas shopping season. Retail merchants will remain open until 9 p.m. both Friday and Saturday nights. Beginning Dec. 5, stores will have evening shopping hours until Christmas Eve.

Although the local weather observer did not predict snow for Santa's arrival in Roundtown, Pickaway County youngsters can be assured that the jolly old man will arrive on schedule for the 2 p.m. parade and then to his house at the corner of Main and Court Sts. to await the visit from youngsters.

HUNTING became a real pain in the neck to William Brown of Vandalia when he was struck by two pellets while pursuing the sport. He heard a shot in the distance and felt a stinging sensation on the back of his neck. He finished hunting before stopping at Berger Hospital to have the pellets removed.

New Home Mortgages More Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average effective mortgage rate for new homes rose to 8.12 per cent in October, continuing an upward spiral for the 11th straight month.

The Federal Home and Loan Bank Board reported the bad news for homebuyers and the construction industry Thursday.

There was a wide range in rates charged across the country with the highest average of 9.13 per cent in Seattle, Wash. This was a jump of about 1/4 per cent over a year earlier.

The San Francisco-Oakland, Calif., area also had a high rate of 8.97 per cent.

On the other end of the scale Philadelphia, Pa., had an average effective rate of 7.07 per cent.

The board's report shows life insurance companies charged an average 8.48 per cent and mortgage companies were right behind at 8.45 per cent on their new home loans.

Preston Martin, chairman of the board, said the curtailed supply of money mortgage funds at a time when housing is in strong demand accounted for the continued rise in October.

One of the problems, the report said, is that investors were taking their money out of savings and loan institutions which provide mortgages and putting their funds where they can earn a higher interest.

Registrant Appeals Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q — If I appeal an action of the local board, may I appear in person before the appeal board?

A — No.

Q — I have a question about my appeal rights as a registrant. Should I retain an attorney to counsel me and advise me of my rights under selective service law?

A — You may, of course, retain or seek the advice of a private attorney if you so desire. However, you may take advantage of the services of the Government Appeal Agent of your local board. It is his duty to advise you of your rights, and he may assist you in taking an appeal. For an interview with your Government Appeal Agent, contact your local board executive secretary, who will set up an appointment. Government Appeal Agents serve without pay and their service is available to registrants without cost.

Q — I am a conscientious objector and have completed a SSS Form 150 which I forwarded to my local board. Now the local board has requested me to appear to explain my views in more detail. Does this interview count as one granted under the law as a personal appearance or may I have another appearance if I so desire?

A — Your local board may, if there is any question about granting you a conscientious objector deferment, invite or request you to meet with them for an interview prior to classification. The primary purpose of this interview will be to develop further facts on which the claim is based and the sincerity of such claim. This interview does not take the place of the personal appearance which the registrant may request after classification action.

Battle Action

In World War I, there were 53,513 American battlefield deaths, 63,195 other deaths, and 204,002 U.S. troops wounded. World War II casualties were 292,131 Americans killed, 115,185 U.S. deaths from other causes, and 670,846 Americans wounded.

The South Vietnamese said today that 4,004 civilians were killed and 12,448 were wounded in terror incidents in the first 10 months of 1969.

In a report to the International Control Commission, the government said there were 182 incidents during October in which 189 civilians were killed and 576 were wounded.

The International Control Commission, made up of Canada, Poland and India, was set up to supervise the Geneva Agreements of 1954 that ended the French-Indochina war, but it has never been effective.

Intoxication Charges Top Court Docket

The holiday docket in Circleville Municipal Court was heavy.

Pre-holiday celebrators received stiff fines from Judge Sterling Lamb Wednesday.

Two men, Bruce M. Rife, 31, Kingston and Howard F. Derexson, 44, of Kingston, were issued citations by city police for driving while intoxicated. Each was fined $150, ordered to serve three days in jail and had their licenses restricted for five months after a 30 day suspension period.

A $29 bond was forfeited by Linda Arledge, 27, Route 4. She was cited by Police Patrolman Kuhn for speeding 55 in a 35 mile zone.

One celebrant disregarded the holiday generosity of the judge and was forced to pay a double penalty. Onno Wilson was fined $100 for intoxication, but the fine was suspended and he was placed on probation for 30 days. He came before the judge the next day for a similar charge. Wilson is serving both fines in the county jail.

Franklin Vandergift, 39, Route 3, forfeited $24 for disobeying a traffic sign.

Appearing before acting Judge Kenneth Robbins Friday were two men on OMVI charges.

James M. Hutchinson, 29, of Columbus and James Hargo, 52, Dayton were both fined $150 and sentenced to three days in the county jail. Hutchinson's driving privileges were restricted for 60 days and Hargo's for 90 days.

Jury Finds Man Guilty; Sentenced To Ohio Pen

Charles Donohoo, who was found guilty Tuesday of the breaking and entering and burglary of Kirks Furniture Store, New Holland was brought before Judge William Ammer this morning for sentencing.

The jury returned their decision against the Sabina man after an hour of deliberation.

Donohoo was given 1-15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary for the charge of forcible entry and 1-7 years for grand larceny. The judge stipulated that both terms would run consecutively.

Members of the jury were: Mary Louise Baker, Martha Weiler, Clarice Farmer, Anna Ruth Lutz, Edith Delong, Mildred Brink, Mary Jinko, Doris Russell, Chester Noecker, James Alcorn, Rosetta Conrad, Irvin Yeoman and alternate, Dorothy Berger.

ing the meeting times.

It was understood that the delegates decided to recess for a long weekend in order to allow sufficient preparation for the next session. The layover gives them more time also to report back to their home governments.

The American team, headed by Gerard C. Smith, feels that the talks have been marked so far by a good atmosphere and apparent Kremlin seriousness.

In Washington, Secretary of State William P. Rogers says the U.S. delegates told him earlier this week that their preliminary exchanges were "the best of any discussions they have had with the Soviet Union."

Soviet sources here have indicated that the Russians are also satisfied with the talks. But the government-controlled Soviet press has expressed no strong support for SALT and has been blaming Western "militarists" for the arms buildup.

The government newspaper Izvestia commented favorably Thursday on the "businesslike manner" of the talks, but claimed that the U.S. "military-industrial complex" is endangering them.

Cub Pack 52 Holds November Meet At Church

The Webelos Den of Cub Scout Pack 52 demonstrated how to build a pyramid at the November meeting of the pack Tuesday at the Community United Methodist Church.

In addition, the Webelos led the pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

A puppet show of the first Thanksgiving day was put on by Den 3. A crab relay race was won by Den 1.

Thirty-four boys received Bobcat pins during the meeting. They were:

Jim Hudson, Kenneth Good, Scott Roy, Danny Karr, David Cline, Terry Francis, Daniel Weaver, Ralph Salyers, Mike Ramey, Mark Ranek, Paul Hudson, Brian Sealock, Steven Hedges, Emory Brady, Carey Dean, Brad Dye, Chris Mays, Larry Pritchard, Charles Brown, Rodney Cook, Doyne Shirey, Jeff Rase, Brad Rase, Donald Dountz, Dennis McCain, Barton Salyers, Paul Heffelfinger, Eric Archer, David Sutton, Donald Moody, Charles Adams, Gregg Blankenship, David Conrad and John Davis.

Projects with a Thanksgiving theme were on display by Dens 3 and 4. The meeting was adjourned with the Webelos performing the living circle. The next pack meeting will be held 7 p.m. Dec. 16 at the church.

Red Cross Tapes Voices From Home

Circleville and Pickaway County servicemen, women and students who will not be home for Christmas, can receive a tape recording and picture as a greeting from their loved ones through "Voices from Home," a service of the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Appointments may be made for any time during the week of December 1 by calling the chapter, 474-5736.

Those who are sending messages may want to outline their thoughts before their appointment. Family members are urged to mention little familiar happenings, such as new neighbors next door or how the children are doing in school. The sound of their voices and the emotions they convey are important as well.

There is no charge for the service.

Servicemen Receive Discharge

Eight servicemen from Pickaway County received their discharges during the month of November.

Completing duty with the U.S. Army were Weston D. Plierl and Robert E. O'Day, both of Ashville; Gale E. Thorne, 129 Pleasant St.; and Roger J. Austin, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

Clarence E. Arnold, 631 Elm Ave. and Dale M. Davis, Ashville, were discharged from the Navy; Robert D. Fuhrman, 550 N. Pickaway St., the U.S. Air Force; Wayne F. Carter of Route 2, Air Force, retired.

Nixon . . .

Kennedy, too, went on the networks.

"Americans," he said, "are free . . . to disagree with the law but not to disobey it. For in a government of laws and not of men, no man, however prominent or powerful, and no mob, however unruly or boisterous, is entitled to defy a court of law."

Kennedy, who spoke out comparatively freely on desegregation and other civil rights problems, said in a televised interview about three months after the Mississippi eruptions that "we couldn't do anything else."

"But, on the other hand," he added, "I recognize that it has caused a lot of bitterness against me and against the national government in Mississippi and other parts. . . ."

At one point Kennedy took note of progress toward integration in Atlanta and messaged his congratulations to the city.

In addressing the United States Conference of Mayors in Honolulu in 1963 Kennedy cited integration as an area in which cities could take important steps. He suggested the mayors make sure their ordinances and practices conformed with constitutional law.

In the presidency of Johnson, who could and did boast of guiding the first civil rights bill in more than 80 years to passage while Senate Democratic leader, most court decisions on segregation supplemented earlier ones. And they stirred up little White House reaction.

Nixon was on a political sortie into New Jersey, to help elect a Republican governor when word reached him that the Supreme Court had ruled deliberate speed wasn't enough speed and there had to be integration "at once."

At that point, the president had nothing to say for public consumption about the decision, in a case involving the time it was taking recalcitrant Mississippi school districts to desegregate.

Ah, Respectability

The beard is respectable. Respectable enough to flourish, full-grown, on the faces of the stalwarts who drive New York City's buses.

This is the decision of Theodore W. Kheel, labor arbitrator, who had to decide between the clean-shaven preferences of the Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority and a number of its drivers, who had facial foliage more luxuriant than the approved "neatly-trimmed mustaches."

Kheel, deciding in favor of the drivers, gave such support as:

All over the world, flowing beards have stood for wisdom, strength and fatherliness. Beards have been worn by any number of great men, including Aristotle and Plato.

The renaissance of the beard in this era is a classic story of the triumph of the non-conformist minority against the antagonism of the status-quo majority. And now that beards are fully respectable again, after a half-century of disrepute, the future of the non-conformist is bleak.

The majority may adopt the beard and flaunt it, while the hippies will be forced to go clean-shaven to prove they're different.

According To Boyle

By HENRIETTA LEITH (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Some-day Carl Reiner is surely going to write a movie or a television show about a kid growing up in a near-slum in the Bronx—playing stickball in the streets, being robbed of his milk money, running to tell a lady four flights up she had a telephone call in the candy store, so she'd give him two cents for candy.

In fact, he wrote the script in a few hours the other day, on location. It was a lot of laughs, but it was also a little sad.

The dingy brick tenement at 665 E. 179th St. is still there, and the candy store is still there, though boarded up, and the delicatessen where he ran every Sunday morning with a nickel to buy a hot dog and sauerkraut is still there, and even the man who sold him the hot dog is still there, but little Carl Reiner isn't there any more.

He still loves hot dogs, but he buys them 50 pounds at a time from Nathan's and imports them by air to California.

Reiner went to the Bronx, as he frankly told the drama class at Evander Childs High School, for some publicity shots for "The Comic," which he coauthored, coproduced, directed and acted in, with Dick Van Dyke.

"You're being used," he told the kids, and they loved it.

But a visit to the old neighborhood was a highly personal experience. His mother and father lived out their lives in the neighborhood, moving from East 179th Street when he was 13 to a new place only four blocks away on Arthur Avenue, and he didn't escape the Bronx until he was a tall, stringy youth ready to go to war.

Before he even gets to the neighborhood, Reiner gets nostalgic passing the Bronx Zoo, where his brother was "one of the first guys that could talk to animals."

"I lived there," he says. "We knew every cage. My mother used to pack us lunch, and she'd tell us: 'I'll meet you by the goats.'"

"And there's the street I used to have to walk to junior high school. That's where all the mafiosos come from. I went to a

FIVE YEARS AGO

Chief pumpkin certifier Clarence Radcliffe and Pumpkin Show trustee Ned Harden announced that the 97-pound pumpkin raised in the Soviet Union would be rejected here. The USSR's pride just brought a snicker from Circleville residents.

A Stoutsville woman suffered only lacerations of her cheek and thumb when her auto was struck by a freight train at the W. Main St. railroad crossing.

Tabulations for the county showed that 12,820 of over 15,000 voters showed at the polls, a low tally for a major election year. On the unusual side, all three county school districts passed operating levies, with a local levy approved for the fire department and a Circleville Twp. zoning proposal.

Lou Deal held the grand opening of her new flower shop in Ashville.

Theresa Schuer and Susan Bluebaugh earned trophies as winners of the annual Columbus Day essay contest sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

A Circleville Merchants team was organized here to participate in the Teays Valley Independent basketball league. Members of the team were: Dave Hicks, Linden Gibson, Bob Weller, Dick Tucker, Randy Clark, John Dougherty, Jake Bailey and Tom Cassidy. There were eight teams in the league.

The McConaughy family of Circleville claimed a local military record, having eight members of its immediate family serve in the armed forces during and since World War I. They included the father, Homer McConaughy and his sons, Wayne and Wilbur, World War II veterans; Willis, Willard and Wendell, Korean War veterans; Eddie and Danny, serving in Germany and Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Lloyd, Kingston, observed their 60th wedding anniversary with an open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jane Orr. They were the parents of five sons and eight daughters.

The Circleville Hall-Adkins American Legion Post celebrated its 45th anniversary with special observances at the Legion Home.

The local Christmas Club savings accounts totaled more than $250,000, an increase of over $10,000 from the previous year's program.

A Circleville native, Rex E. Haacker, was named deputy state auditor by State Auditor Chester W. Goble.

A Chillicothe man, hunting in the area, received a bad impression of the county when his car was burglarized. Among the missing articles was a set of false teeth and his sack lunch.

Six Tigers were named to the All-SCO team. Jack Martin, Mike Ramey, Howard Dade, Jeff Ankrom, Don Fausnaugh and Jim Starkey were all honored with positions on the mythical league team.

The largest jury verdict in the history of the Common Pleas Court was awarded to Thomas Griffey, 17, for injuries suffered in an accident over two years previous. The youth was injured by a cutter bar of a mower being transported by an employee of the Marshall Implement Co. Jurors deliberated for nearly an hour before returning with a $25,000 verdict for the youth.

Dick Butz was named Most Valuable Member of the CHS cross country team.

Teen-Agers Found Dead In Automobile

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Carbon monoxide poisoning has been blamed for the deaths of two teen-agers whose bodies were found Wednesday night in a parked car along the Auglaize River near Delphos.

When Allen County Deputy Sheriff Fred Hawk discovered Rosemary J. Grant, 16, of Elida, and Rex D. Reynolds, 19, of Delphos, the car's engine still was running and the windows were closed.

school where there were very few Jews, mostly Italians, and every day for several years I was robbed. But they would always leave you a nickel to get home."

"There's where I spent most of my time—Oakland Place. There's the dentist's office—he was the only guy who had a car. My best friend Warren Wessel lived there—my only Gentile friend. His mother was the corset lady, and there was something very intriguing about the ladies going into that room and undressing and trying on corsets."

The limousine pulls into 179th Street and it's all there, but smaller and dingier. The marble doorstep is grimy and the paint is peeling off the ceiling and there are no names on the mailboxes but he knows which one it was. It's open, and he looks inside—"No mail."

Across the hall from the old Reiner apartment is the apartment where he was bar-mitzvahed—"It was vacant and my mother didn't want the mess in our house."

At the high school there's a new principal but Mike Arlen, who taught him health education—which definitely didn't include sex education—is still there. And a boy and a girl who were in his class are now the head of the English Department and Dean of Girls respectively.

He tells the drama class they're lucky.

"For three years I was in this high school and I passed a room that said 'Drama' and I was always secretly interested in drama, but I never told anybody."

It wasn't depressing, he insisted, just sad, and only that because all the memories of the two people who were the most important figures in a small boy's life are there, but they are both gone.

But he probably won't go home again. "I'm lucky I came when I did. Another couple of years it'll all be gone."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Nov. 28, the 332nd day of 1969. There are 33 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1520, the Portuguese navigator, Ferdinand Magellan, reached the Pacific Ocean after passing through the South American strait which now bears his name.

On this date:

In 1863, Americans observed the first Thanksgiving Day set aside by national proclamation.

In 1895, the first U.S. auto race was held—between Chicago and Waukegan, Ill., at an average speed of 7½ miles an hour.

In 1919, Lady Astor, the first woman to be seated in the British House of Commons, was elected.

In 1929, Lt. Commander Richard E. Byrd took off from his base in Antarctica to fly over the South Pole.

In 1942, nearly 500 persons died in a fire which destroyed the Coconut Grove night club in Boston.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a wartime meeting in Tehran, Iran.

Ten years ago — It was disclosed that President Dwight D. Eisenhower would speak in public about 30 times during a public tour to Europe, Asia and Africa.

Five years ago — Buddhist leaders in South Vietnam announced a campaign of noncooperation with the government.

One year ago — Police in Wales were investigating a threat to kill Britain's Prince Charles.

A MYOPIC old lady squinted at a uniformed dignitary at a Newport soiree and inquired, "What kind of officer does your uniform signify?" "I'm a naval officer," was the reply. "Land's sake," chuckled the old lady. "How you doctors do specialize these days!"

David Randall, expert rare-book dealer, tells many fascinating details of his specialty in his new book, "Dukedom Large Enough." In book auctions, he advises, "the bargains are most often at the end of a sale. That's when interest flags, most dealers have already overbought, people are exiting, the auctioneer is tired, and things slip through." When browsing in rare and used book shops, adds Randall, "Keep to the upper and lower shelves. Most people, even the shop owners, are too damn lazy to climb a ladder or stoop to their knees once the books are shelved, and that's where the bargains are."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there a blood condition which is the opposite of anemia? How can it be treated and is it serious?

Mr. T. E., Kentucky
Dear Mr. E.: Anemia is a condition in which there is a deficient number of red blood cells circulating in the blood. There can also be a reduced amount of hemoglobin. There are a great many types of anemia, all of which are determined by highly technical studies of the blood.

I assume that the condition you ask about is the one known as polycythemia in which there is an increased concentration of red blood cells in the blood as well as many other associated changes in the composition of the blood.

As with many unusual disorders, the cause of this is still unknown. It seems to occur more frequently during middle and late life and, incidentally, is thought to happen more frequently among Jewish people. This last thought is not too unusual. There are many other diseases that occur more frequently in people of cultural, ethnic, social, and geographic similarity.

Polycythemia produces signs and symptoms in most of the organs of the body. It is therefore a most complex disorder. Treatment today is enhanced by the use of radioactive phosphorus and other radioisotopes. New chemicals are constantly being tried to reduce the activity of the blood-forming organs, such as the bone marrow and the spleen. The withdrawal of blood at regular intervals, too, is helpful in keeping these patients alive and in comparatively good health for many years. Of course, they must be under the constant supervision of physicians.

What causes a falling of the womb? Can it be successfully fixed by surgery?

Mrs. D. W., New Jersey
Dear Mrs. W.: The ligaments that support the uterus (or womb) and the urinary bladder sometimes are stretched in women who have given birth to one or more children. The muscles that normally support the uterus become weakened and the womb falls from its normal position. This is known as a prolapse.

Associated with a fallen womb is a sense of heaviness and

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

At the moment of writing, President Nixon is engaged in discussions with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan on the problem of the island of Okinawa, the largest of the Ryukyu chain which we took in World War II at the cost of much blood. Whether Sato gets what he wants will depend on the need to sustain his "face" vis-a-vis his own radicals, and maybe it won't change the realities anyway. The point is that Japan depends on the U.S. for nuclear "umbrella" protection, and even if we are to give the Japanese a veto action over anything we do on Okinawa in a military way, it is hard to see how Tokyo could resist letting us use the bases on the island to defend the general peace of the Far East.

What is more interesting than the nominal control of Okinawa is the fact that the controversy over its status sheds a baleful light on the double standard which much of the world has come to accept when it discusses the "imperialism" of the Americans. The U.S. fought the Japanese for four bitter years after our fleet was slugged at Pearl Harbor. We carried the brunt of the war in the Pacific on our own, though with some help from the Australians. The foxy Russians, who had remained quiescent while the Japanese were spilling out all over the western Pacific, let MacArthur's soldiers and Nimitz's sailors and marines fight all the way back to the Philippines and Okinawa from New Guinea and Hawaii. Then, just as the Japanese were about to sue for peace, Stalin gave the signal that sent Soviet troops into Manchuria. One does not waste time blaming a nation for opportunism, but this was what Fascist Italy had done in the early days of World War II when, after it was apparent that France was about to capitulate to Hitler, the jackal Mussolini decided he would get what he could of the corpse of the French Third Republic. The difference between Mussolini and Stalin was that the latter managed to hang on to his prey; his military forces took the Kurile Islands, which stretch between Hokkaido, the northernmost island of Japan, and Soviet Kamchatka peninsula.

The Kuriles were like Okinawa, something that Japan could claim more or less legitimately in the light of history. But where the U.S. has been willing to discuss the return of Okinawa to Japan, the Soviet Union shows absolutely no disposition whatsoever to disgorge what it took in a Far Eastern war that had demanded no sacrifice.

It was just about a month ago that the Japanese Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi journeyed to Moscow seeking a return of some of the Kuriles. The answer was "nyet." Again, one does not waste time bemoaning the Soviet lack of sensitivity in diplomatic matters; hard dealing is what anyone expects of Moscow. But where were the young Japanese radicals while Aichi was getting the cold shoulder? If they were out demonstrating against "Muscovite imperialism," it somehow didn't appear in western newspapers. There was plenty of news, however, of radical student demonstrations against the U.S. for its failure to give up Okinawa even before Sato went to Washington. And in the U.S. itself, the manipulators of the various moratoria did not couple any agitation against the "imperialistic Russians" with their denunciations of U.S. "imperialism" in South Vietnam.

The American "anti-imperialists" do not seem to care what the Soviets do to protect and further their control of half the world, and they always seem to carry Senator J. William Fulbright with them. But one Senator, Harry Byrd of Virginia, is alive to the workings of the double standard regarding proposed changes of status in the Far East. Just before Sato arrived in Washington, Senator Byrd succeeded in tacking an amendment to a State Department appropriation bill concerning Okinawa. The Byrd amendment read: "It is the sense of Congress that the President shall not enter into any agreement or understanding, the effect of which would be to change the status of any territory referred to in Article 3 of the Treaty of Peace with Japan, without the advice and consent of the Senate."

Since Okinawa is, in Byrd's words, "our most important single military base complex in the Far East," it would be in Japan's own interest for the U.S. to retain the use of it as long as the Soviets maintain their claim on the Kuriles at the other end of the Japanese homeland. If post-World War II balance of power arrangements affecting Japan are to be abrogated, why not a three-power talk about "reversions"? Must the U.S. always be the patsy while Brezhnev and Kosygin never give up anything that protects their interests?

Jack Warner

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You couldn't call it a love feast, because Jack Warner wasn't the kind of boss who inspired love. Indeed, none of the men who built movie empires were considered lovable.

But they came out of respect—and a sense of history. The respect was expressed when the screen lit up with great moments of film: Al Jolson in the first sound movie... Paul Muni as Zola... Humphrey Bogart asking Dooley Wilson to "Play it again, Sam"... Errol Flynn dying as Gen. Custer... Bette Davis, James Cagney, Judy Garland, etc., at the peaks of their careers.

Jack Warner was potentate of Warner Brothers studio when all those achievements were filmed. And so a thousand industry leaders went to the studio last week to give him honor.

They also seemed to be bidding farewell to an era of Hollywood greatness now closed with absolute finality. Warner was the last of the industry pioneers to sell out. He had handed the studio to Seven Arts, which in turn sold it to the present owners, Kinney National Services. The new studio boss for Kinney, former agent Ted Ashley, gave the glittering farewell for Warner.

Frank Sinatra was emcee. He said, the dinner was in honor of "a man who has done a great deal for what is left of the motion picture industry."

Jack Valenti, as president of the Motion Picture Producers Association, recalled his tussle with Warner over the salty language in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" Said Valenti: "How I have longed for sweet, delicate 'Virginia'—longed for her after 'Fanny Hill.'"

One-time Warner gangster Edward G. Robinson called himself "the only 5-foot-5 survivor of the Warner University Class of 1930." He recalled the days when he, Bogart, Flynn and Muni "used to sit around exchanging X-rated anecdotes about our commander-in-chief."

"There aren't many of us left," Bette Davis said ruefully.

She had known years of battle with Warner, but she commented: "Dorothy Parker once remarked that the thing most responsible for 'the good old days' was a poor memory. I disagree. I'm here to pay homage to my professional father."

As expected, Warner made one of his dispirited, bad-gag speeches which have been the bane of his friends and enemies. "Jack would rather tell a bad joke than make a good picture," Jack Benny once said. Though he has bowed out as a studio executive, Warner at 77, is not quitting the business. He has set up offices in Century City, and expects to go on making pictures.

Catholic Census Held For Diocese

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A census conducted recently by the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus shows 11.4 per cent of the population in the 23-county Central Ohio diocese is Catholic.

Of 1,552,801 persons counted, 177,238 are Catholic and 1,375,563 are of other persuasions. Further broken down by age groups, the statistics showed 50 per cent of the population is under 21.

"You're being used," he told the kids, and they loved it.

But a visit to the old neighborhood was a highly personal experience. His mother and father lived out their lives in the neighborhood, moving from East 179th Street when he was 13 to a new place only four blocks away on Arthur Avenue, and he didn't escape the Bronx until he was a tall, stringy youth ready to go to war.

Before he even gets to the neighborhood, Reiner gets nostalgic passing the Bronx Zoo, where his brother was "one of the first guys that could talk to animals."

"I lived there," he says. "We knew every cage. My mother used to pack us lunch, and she'd tell us: 'I'll meet you by the goats.'"

"And there's the street I used to have to walk to junior high school. That's where all the mafiosos come from. I went to a school where there were very few Jews, mostly Italians, and every day for several years I was robbed. But they would always leave you a nickel to get home."

"There's where I spent most of my time—Oakland Place. There's the dentist's office—he was the only guy who had a car. My best friend Warren Wessel lived there—my only Gentile friend. His mother was the corset lady, and there was something very intriguing about the ladies going into that room and undressing and trying on corsets."

The limousine pulls into 179th Street and it's all there, but smaller and dingier. The marble doorman is grimy and the paint is peeling off the ceiling and there are no names on the mailboxes but he knows which one it was. It's open, and he looks inside. "No mail."

Across the hall from the old Reiner apartment is the apartment where he was bar-mitzvahed—"It was vacant and my mother didn't want the mess in our house."

At the high school there's a new principal but Mike Arlen, who taught him health education—which definitely didn't include sex education—is still there. And a boy and a girl who were in his class are now the head of the English Department and Dean of Girls respectively.

He tells the drama class they're lucky.

"For three years I was in this high school and I passed a room that said 'Drama' and I was always secretly interested in drama, but I never told anybody."

It wasn't depressing, he insists, just sad, and only that because all the memories of the two people who were the most important figures in a small boy's life are there, but they are both gone.

But he probably won't go home again. "I'm lucky I came when I did. Another couple of years it'll all be gone."

Six Tigers were named to the All-SCO team. Jack March, Mike Ramey, Howard Dade, Jeff Ankrom, Don Fausnaugh and Jim Starkey were all honored with positions on the mythical league team.

The largest jury verdict in the history of the Common Pleas Court was awarded to Thomas Griffey, 17, for injuries suffered in an accident over two years previous. The youth was injured by a cutter bar of a mower being transported by an employee of the Marshall Implement Co. Jurors deliberated for nearly an hour before returning with a $25,000 verdict for the youth.

Teen-Agers Found Dead In Automobile

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Carbon monoxide poisoning has been blamed for the deaths of two teen-agers whose bodies were found Wednesday night in a parked car along the Auglaize River near Delphos.

When Allen County Deputy Sheriff Fred Hawk discovered Rosemary J. Grant, 16, of Elida, and Rex D. Reynolds, 19, of Delphos, the car's engine still was running and the windows were closed.

A MYOPIC old lady squinted at a uniformed dignitary at a Newport soiree and inquired, "What kind of officer does your uniform signify?" "I'm a naval officer," was the reply. "Land's sake," chuckled the old lady. "How you doctors do specialize these days!"

David Randall, expert rare-book dealer, tells many fascinating details of his specialty in his new book, "Dukedom Large Enough." In book auctions, he advises, "the bargains are most often at the end of a sale. That's when interest flags, most dealers have already overbought, people are exiting, the auctioneer is tired, and things slip through." When browsing in rare and used book shops, adds Randall, "Keep to the upper and lower shelves. Most people, even the shop owners, are too damn lazy to climb a ladder or stoop to their knees once the books are shelved, and that's where the bargains are."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there a blood condition which is the opposite of anemia? How can it be treated and is it serious?

Mr. T. E., Kentucky Dear Mr. E.: Anemia is a condition in which there is a deficient number of red blood cells circulating in the blood. There can also be a reduced amount of hemoglobin. There are a great many types of anemia, all of which are determined by highly technical studies of the blood.

I assume that the condition you ask about is the one known as polycythemia in which there is an increased concentration of red blood cells in the blood as well as many other associated changes in the composition of the blood.

As with many unusual disorders, the cause of this one is still unknown. It seems to occur more frequently during middle and late life and, incidentally, is thought to happen more frequently among Jewish people. This last thought is not too unusual. There are many other diseases that occur more frequently in people of cultural, ethnic, social, and geographic similarity.

Polycythemia produces signs and symptoms in most of the organs of the body. It is therefore a most complex disorder. Treatment today is enhanced by the use of radioactive phosphorus and other radioisotopes. New chemicals are constantly being tried to reduce the activity of the blood-forming organs, such as the bone marrow and the spleen. The withdrawal of blood at regular intervals, too, is helpful in keeping these patients alive and in comparatively good health for many years. Of course, they must be under the constant supervision of physicians.

What causes a falling of the womb? Can it be successfully fixed by surgery?

Mrs. D. W., New Jersey Dear Mrs. W.: The ligaments that support the uterus (or womb) and the urinary bladder sometimes are stretched in women who have given birth to one or more children. The muscles that normally support the uterus become weakened and the womb falls from its normal position. This is known as a prolapse.

Associated with a fallen womb is a sense of heaviness and Must U.S. Be The Patsy?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

At the moment of writing, President Nixon is engaged in discussions with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan on the problem of the island of Okinawa, the largest of the Ryukyu chain which we took in World War II at the cost of much blood. Whether Sato gets what he wants will depend on the need to sustain his "face" vis-a-vis his own radicals, and maybe it won't change the realities anyway. The point is that Japan depends on the U.S. for nuclear "umbrella" protection, and even if we are to give the Japanese a veto action over anything we do on Okinawa in a military way, it is hard to see how Tokyo could resist letting us use the bases on the island to defend the general peace of the Far East.

What is more interesting than the nominal control of Okinawa is the fact that the controversy over its status sheds a baleful light on the double standard which much of the world has come to accept when it discusses the "imperialism" of the Americans. The U.S. fought the Japanese for four bitter years after our fleet was slugged at Pearl Harbor. We carried the brunt of the war in the Pacific on our own, though with some help from the Australians. The fox Russians, who had remained quiescent while the Japanese were spilling oil all over the western Pacific, let MacArthur's soldiers and Nimitz's sailors and marines fight all the way back to the Philippines and Okinawa from New Guinea and Hawaii. Then, just as the Japanese were about to sue for peace, Stalin gave the signal that sent Soviet troops into Manchuria. One does not waste time blaming a nation for opportunism, but this was what Fascist Italy had done in the early days of World War II when, after it was apparent that France was about to capitulate to Hitler, the jackal Mussolini decided he would get what he could of the corpse of the French Third Republic. The difference between Mussolini and Stalin was that the latter managed to hang on to his prey; his military forces took the Kurile Islands, which stretch between Hokkaido, the northernmost island of Japan, and Soviet Kamchatka peninsula.

The Kuriles were like Okinawa, something that Japan could claim more or less legitimately in the light of history. But where the U.S. has been willing to discuss the return of Okinawa to Japan, the Soviet Union shows absolutely no disposition whatsoever to disgorge what it took in a Far Eastern war that had demanded no sacrifice.

It was just about a month ago that the Japanese Foreign Minister Kichii Aichi journeyed to Moscow seeking a return of some of the Kuriles. The answer was "nyet." Again, one does not waste time bemoaning the Soviet lack of sensitivity in diplomatic matters: hard dealing is what anyone expects of Moscow. But where were the young Japanese radicals while Aichi was getting the cold shoulder? If they were out demonstrating against "Muscovite imperialism," it somehow didn't appear in western newspapers. There was plenty of news, however, of radical student demonstrations against the U.S. for its failure to give up Okinawa even before Sato went to Washington. And in the U.S. itself, the manipulators of the various moratoria did not couple any agitation against the "imperialistic Russians" with their denunciations of U.S. "imperialism" in South Vietnam.

The American "anti-imperialists" do not seem to care what the Soviets do to protect and further their control of half the world, and they always seem to carry Senator J. William Fulbright with them. But one Senator, Harry Byrd of Virginia, is alive to the workings of the double standard regarding proposed changes of status in the Far East. Just before Sato arrived in Washington, Senator Byrd succeeded in tacking an amendment to a State Department appropriation bill concerning Okinawa. The Byrd amendment read: "It is the sense of Congress that the President shall not enter into any agreement or understanding, the effect of which would be to change the status of any territory referred to in Article 3 of the Treaty of Peace with Japan, without the advice and consent of the Senate." Since Okinawa is, in Byrd's words, "our most important single military base complex in the Far East," it would be in Japan's own interest for the U.S. to retain the use of it as long as the Soviets maintain their claim on the Kuriles at the other end of the Japanese homeland. If post-World War II balance of power arrangements affecting Japan are to be abrogated, why not a three-power talk about "reversions"? Must the U.S. always be the patsy while Brezhnev and Kosygin never give up anything that protects their interests?

County - Wide Law Enforcement Units Urged

(Editors: This is the third in a series of articles detailing the duplication of services and economic waste under the state's city-county-township system.)

By DAVID QUEEN
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's courts, jails and police-men may themselves be stumbling blocks to justice and efficiency.

The combined government systems of county, city, villages and townships spend in excess of $275 million annually for the total law enforcement process — a process that isn't giving the taxpayer his money's worth according to some officials.

The state auditor's office reports that Ohio's 88 counties spent almost $55 million for judicial and law enforcement services in 1968. The cities spent over $190 million during 1967, while village governments spent almost $12 million. The highway patrol budget for 1969 exceeds $18 million.

A sharp critic of the present system of diversified jurisdictions is Cuyahoga County Sheriff Ralph Kreiger.

"The average person sees a uniform and automatically assumes the man in it is an expert in drugs, homicide and sex crimes — it's ridiculous. He's fortunate if he can professionally write a speeding ticket," Kreiger said.

Kreiger aimed his blast at local control of law enforcement and its effect on police quality. Inside Kreiger's jurisdiction are 56 city police departments, and countless township agencies with differing jurisdictions.

The small law enforcement groups are unable to train their men to investigate murders, sex crimes, drug violations and traffic infractions, he said. "As a result, many crimes are going needlessly unsolved because none of the police will admit their lack of sophistication."

Kreiger recommends a county wide police department with the only other agencies being city police departments that concern themselves solely with traffic violations. The Highway Patrol could continue to act as an auxiliary agency for the police, he said.

The idea is "a coming thing," but it will meet stiff opposition in Ohio because each separate agency is a "small empire that thinks it will lose under centralization — they'll really gain," he said.

According to Kreiger, centralization would permit a rapid computerized identification system, better training for personnel and allow purchasing of expensive equipment "that a modern force simply has to have, but most don't."

Most cities and counties have their own prosecutors, jails, police and their own jurisdictions. The "arbitrary" jurisdictions virtually guarantee that courts, jails and police will spring up around the system.

Judge Leonard Stern, formerly secretary-treasurer of the Common Pleas Judges Association of Ohio and now judge of the 10th District Court of Appeals, said the state should have a maximum of 88 county-wide courts instead of the present city, township and county courts. Courts are established on the basis of domestic and criminal matters and then separated again on the basis of geography, he said.

Stern said the single jurisdictions would speed the process because confusing and "archaic" boundaries could be ignored. The only basis for jurisdiction would be in the nature of the case.

The idea meets strong local opposition because people cherish local autonomy and assume there would be only one court room at the county seat, Stern said. For the courts, jurisdiction should be structural instead of geographic. A revised system could include local courts, but streamlined authority, he said.

Law enforcement would be improved and justice speeded up Stern said, but the job will require "a good deal of selling."

William Harrington, counsel for the Ohio Bar Association, agreed with Stern. He said "totally unneeded" geographic jurisdiction slows the process and makes it inefficient. A major advantage of reorganization would be "better balance," Harrington said. "Many courts have tremendously overworked judges while others are practically and literally part-time."

Harrington praised Franklin County's county-wide court system, but attacked the Cuyahoga County diversified system as "very bad. There is a purely political breakdown, and multiplication of minor bureaucracies results."

The reorganization process will be slow, however, because the legislature is reluctant to tread on local autonomy. Harrington noted that the OBA pushed a minor court revision bill for four years before the legislature gave it approval.

far from an agreed to necessity. H. W. Davies, executive director of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association, said there "seems" to be no need to reorganize the system. "Everyone has his job and everyone gets it done."

John Coleman, director of the Ohio Municipalities League, voiced similar doubts about any county-wide reorganization.

Sunday School Class Sets Christmas Party

Loyal Daughter's Sunday School Class of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church will hold its annual Christmas Banquet and gift exchange 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Service Center.
Devotions and the program will be directed by Mrs. Paul Woodward, Mrs. Chester Starkey, Mrs. Robert Arledge and Mrs. Ralph Roby.

Missionary Society Names New Officers

Christian Women's Missionary Society of the Northridge Church of Christ met recently in the home of Mable West, 648 N. Court St.
Marge Bergen, president, presided over the business session. The members sang "Count Your Blessings." Devotions were centered on the first Thanksgiving.
Reports were made and projects for Thanksgiving and Christmas were discussed. Plans were made to go to the Mountain Lodge Nursing Home in Lancaster to visit Miss Sara Cooper and take tray favors for all the residents.
Dorothy Thomas, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers. Elected for the coming year are Melva Kasler, president; Lyona Taylor, vice president; Janelle Clifton, secretary; and Mabel West, treasurer.
Following adjournment of the meeting, a silver tray was presented to Dorothy Thomas who will soon be leaving the city.
Mrs. West used a green and yellow color scheme for the table, and a cake inscribed "God Bless You In Your New Home" was served with lime sherbet punch.

Circleville Branch AAUW Plans Tea

Circleville Branch of the American Assn. of University Women met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Dale Edwards presiding. She announced Mrs. Ned Griner as the new chairman of community problems and the formation of two new study groups, one to discuss antiques with Mrs. Richard Petz as chairman and the other, a group interested in music, headed by Mrs. Robert Rustin.
Members of the chapter will assist in the work with children's clothing at the Day Center.

The next meeting will be a tea held in the Historical Museum on Dec. 28 from 3 to 5 in the afternoon at which the guests will be all girls residing in Pickaway County who are now students in college.

Mrs. Charles Schieman, chairman of a group studying the problem of "Our Beleaguered Earth," introduced the speaker Dr. Acie C. Waldron, extension specialist on pesticide chemicals affiliated with Ohio State University. Dr. Waldron spoke of the necessity for the use of pesticides. He outlined the dangers in improper handling of these chemicals and stressed the many safeguards employed by the government agencies before any such new product is put on the market. He emphasized the need for care in the use of pesticides and stressed the necessity for understanding just what each one is to be used for.

At the conclusion of the lecture refreshments were served by the hostess committee whose members were Mrs. David Gillespie, Mrs. William Riecke, Mrs. Leland Dunkle, Mrs. William Winter, Mrs. James Lovensheimer and Miss Martha Warthen.

CSU Students Want Old Law Done Away With

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —The legislature will be asked in January to repeal an 80-year-old law which students at Central State University says reflects "Whitey's image" of the Negro.

Rep. Keith McNamara said student leaders at the predominantly black school told him they consider the old statute to be a racial slur.

The law prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors or location of "houses of ill fame" within two miles of the school's Wilberforce campus.

Central State is the only campus in Ohio subject to such a prohibition in the code. State liquor officials believe it is the only exception to Ohio's home-rule policy on liquor sales.

Everett Resh, Pickaway District Scout executive, will also be in attendance to answer questions and provide literature supplied by the council headquarters in Columbus.

The Roundtable lecture will be held at the Lutheran Parish House.

Government Builds Case Against Cops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal government appears prepared to start building the framework of its gambling conspiracy case against eight police men and a racketeer.

A key witness, gambler Frank Drungold, is ready to testify under protection of immunity from prosecution when the federal court trial resumes Monday morning.

Before court recessed Wednesday for a long Thanksgiving weekend, Judge Joseph P. Kinneary granted the government's request of immunity for Drungold, who reportedly was top man in an East Side numbers ring before federal agents smashed it two years ago.

Drungold pleaded guilty last January to federal wagering violations and was fined $5,000 and received a suspended five-year prison sentence.

Testimony Monday is expected to be the start of what Justice Department Attorney Philip Michael said would be the "second wing" of the federal case.

This phase, he told the jury earlier in opening remarks, would show how local gambling operations are "superimposed on a scheme of corruption and police bribery."

District Governor Is Guest Of Circleville Lions Club

LYLE S. BENHAM

Lyle S. Benham, district governor of District 13 J, Lions International, will be the guest of the Circleville Lions Club 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Wardell Party Home.

District 13 J includes most of South Central Ohio. Benham's visit is the annual visitation of the club made by the district governor.

BREATH HOLDER—Somebody dubbed this shapely lass, Melinda Jones, 18, "Miss Skin Diver 1970" at Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg. She has 36-23-35 beautistics, and can hold her breath for three minutes underwater.

CSU Students Want Old Law Done Away With

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The legislature will be asked in January to repeal an 80-year-old law which students at Central State University says reflects "Whitey's image" of the Negro.

Rep. Keith McNamara said student leaders at the predominantly black school told him they consider the old statute to be a racial slur.

The law prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors or location of "houses of ill fame" within two miles of the school's Wilberforce campus.

Central State is the only campus in Ohio subject to such a prohibition in the code. State liquor officials believe it is the only exception to Ohio's home-rule policy on liquor sales.

Kingston News Report

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Minor have named their daughter born Nov. 18 in Chillicothe Hospital, Holly Ann.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hunter were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ellison and Mrs. Barbara Shriver of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas of Columbus and Mrs. Myrtle Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nixon spent the weekend with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hopkins and sons at their home in Xenia. Mrs. Nixon spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. James Reisinger in Columbus.

Russell Ortman presided at the business session at the meeting of the Zane Trace Parent-Teacher Organization at the school and David Weideman led Troop 4 in presentation of the flag. 654 new members have been enrolled in a recent drive and Mr. Everett Park, Superintendent thanked members for their support in passing the levy and stated that an advisory committee is to be formed to help discuss various problems of the school.

The first and second grade students of Miss Josephine Connell presented a program, "Carnival," that included a piano solo by Andrea Helton; tap dance, Lisa Seitz; vocal duet, Heidi and Faith Swepston with their own ukelele accompaniment and a quartet, Dennis Greenwalt, Mark Fraley, John Bennett and Scott Shaffer, who sang the school song. Lois Gearhart and Connie Jones, FHA representatives, presented a skit explaining the degrees in FHA and telling some of their activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones entertained at an early Thanksgiving dinner Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jones and children, Bradford, Allison and Matthew, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huhn and son, Scott and Mrs. Effie Hildenbrand. Mr. Huhn and Scott are in Pennsylvania this week on a deer hunting trip and staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudgins at Armbrust, Pa.

Zane Trace Middle School News — The Zane Trace Junior High Student Council sponsored a dance, Friday, Nov. 14 in the school gym, with music by the "Sidewalk Foundation." Parents who assisted faculty members as chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holyman and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Whitten. Extensive eye-checks have been conducted by Mrs. Patricia Ortman of the Ross County Health Department and several community volunteers. From these check-ups, recommendations will be made for further examination by the students own doctor.

The November "Student-of-the-Month Assembly" was held Friday Nov. 21, and award certificates were given to Debbie Steele and Eugene Robison, seventh graders and Melody Stone and Tim Kelley, eighth graders.

Brent Betz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betz was sufficiently recovered from injuries suffered in an auto accident two weeks ago to be discharged from Chillicothe Hospital on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Parks were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Russell in Circleville.

The new minister and his family, Rev. and Mrs. Michael Wright and three daughters, were welcomed with a carry-in dinner by members of the United Methodist Church followed by a song fest Sunday.

Mrs. Celia Hinton and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Bevis and children, "R.D.", Vicki and Valerie of Columbus attended the annual Thanksgiving dinner of the descendants of William and Bertha Hinton, Sunday in the Colerain United Methodist Church.

Miss Grace Dresbach and Mrs. William A. Canter were hostesses when the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Canter. Miss Dresbach, president, presided and discussed the Garden Club Convention which she and Mrs. Marvin Jones attended recently at Bowling Green. They wore the corsages made of Vel-Glow Ribbon they were given there and showed favors, pomanders made of oranges and apples stuffed with cloves. Mrs. Jones gave a report on the Fall meet of the Ohio Federation of Garden Clubs held October 29 at the First United Methodist Church in Chillicothe. The morning program featured slides and a talk on Scotland by Mr. James A. Hanna of Oak Hill and for the afternoon session, Mrs. Fred Molitor of Dover showed and discussed holiday Christmas arrangements which Mrs. Jones described. The planters maintained by the club in Kingston were discussed as was a Therapy program to be carried out in connection with the nursing homes here.

Prizes for arrangements, using candles or a candle went to Mrs. Canter and Miss Dresbach. Plans were made to dine out in December with husbands and guests and in January, Mrs. Earl Wolfe, Mrs. Russell Wolfe and Mrs. David Pontious will be the hostess and the arrangements will be dish gardens.

Mrs. Phillip Davis and Mrs. Mary Seymour attended the meeting of the Stuffers Club Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heinzelman in Chillicothe.

The Youth Group of the Kingston and Whisler Presbyterian Churches had as their guests for a pizza party and program Sunday night at the Kingston Church, the Youth Group from Central College Presbyterian Church in Columbus. The home group had the devotionals and their guests had charge of the program and games. Mothers of the group helped with the pizza's but several were made at the church as a means of getting acquainted. Advisors were Mrs. John Parsons, Mrs. Larry Street, Mrs. Harold Moss and Mrs. Donald Jones.

Pfc. Leroy Kocher arrived on Wednesday from Camp Lejeune, North Carolina for a fifteen day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kocher and brother Harry Jr. in Circleville before going to Memphis, Tennessee to attend a technical training school. He is the grandson of Mrs. Elie Welsheimer.

Speaker Named For Boy Scout Roundtable

The guest lecturer at the Pickaway District Boy Scouts Roundtable 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Lutheran Parish House will be John Gallaher.

Gallaher is director of field service for Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts of America, and has over 10 years experience in professional scouting.

Gallaher's subject will be of specific interest to Cub Scout and Boy Scout leaders and will provide helpful ideas to local volunteers in conducting their pack and troop meetings for boys aged eight through 15.

Everett Resh, Pickaway District Scout executive, will also be in attendance to answer questions and provide literature supplied by the council headquarters in Columbus.

The Roundtable lecture will be held at the Lutheran Parish House.

Government Builds Case Against Cops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal government appears prepared to start building the framework of its gambling conspiracy case against eight police men and a racketeer.

A key witness, gambler Frank Drungold, is ready to testify under protection of immunity from prosecution when the federal court trial resumes Monday morning.

Before court recessed Wednesday for a long Thanksgiving weekend, Judge Joseph P. Kinneary granted the government's request of immunity for Drungold, who reputedly was top man in an East Side numbers ring before federal agents smashed it two years ago.

Drungold pleaded guilty last January to federal wagering violations and was fined $5,000 and received a suspended five-year prison sentence.

Testimony Monday is expected to be the start of what Justice Department Attorney Philip Michael said would be the "second wing" of the federal case.

This phase, he told the jury earlier in opening remarks, would show how local gambling operations are "superimposed on a scheme of corruption and police bribery."

Sweazey To Speak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An address by the Rev. George E. Sweazey, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church's 181st General Assembly, will highlight a two-day, semi-annual Ohio Synod meeting here Dec. 3-6.

who can drive a crooked nail?

No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child . . . and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.

Who can drive a crooked nail?

The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.

Let the Church help you raise your family. God never meant you to try it alone!

who can drive a crooked nail?

No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child . . . and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.

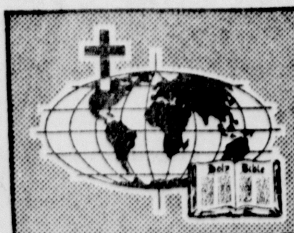

Who can drive a crooked nail?

The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.

Let the Church help you raise your family. God never meant you to try it alone!

Mrs. F. C. LeRoy and daughter Myra Ellen, Mrs. Roy Harden and Mrs. Harry Metzger attended the Travelogue "Mains'ls to the Mediterranean" Sunday afternoon at the Wagnalls Memorial in Lithopolis.

Mrs. Faye Fausnaugh spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gerold Crites in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCain of Columbus were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad.

Miss Sherry Peters, Mark Peters and Mrs. Kathryn Wynkoop visited Eastland, Columbus Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drake left Monday Nov. 17 to spend the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Trinity Lutheran Women's Circle met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Jeanette Christy with 16 members present and one visitor. At the business session, plans were made for the annual Christmas party, which will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 11 in the church. A gift exchange will be held. The annual election of officers was held. The following officers were elected for 1970: Mrs. Lucille Justus, president; Mrs. Gertrude Smith, vice president; Mrs. Faye Fausnaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Jeanette Christy, secretary; Mrs. Jeanette Schumann, pianist and Mrs. Kathryn Wynkoop reporter.

At the close of the business meeting, the meeting was turned over to Miss Besse Good who brought the topic of the month, "Human Rights, Our Community and Our World." A dessert lunch was served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, Mrs. Jeanette Christy and co-hostess, Mrs. Lucille Justus.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Christy left Monday to spend their vacation at Grant, Florida.

The present address of Pvt. Michael Lee McCain is PLT

2076 F Co. 2nd Bn. RTR, 2612528, Parris Island, South Carolina 29905. Let's remember our servicemen not only on holidays but the year around.

Miss Robin Allison of Circleville spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Floyd and family on Sunday. They made a trip through Londonderry and other points of interest.

Darrel Conrad of near Circleville visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad Saturday evening.

Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wynkoop were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Callihan of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ratcliff, Steve and Monta Kay and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wynkoop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miranda called on Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wynkoop Monday afternoon.

Tentative Accord For Westinghouse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Production could resume at the huge Westinghouse Corp. plant here next week if electrical workers approve a new tentative agreement on local issues. Local 746 of the International Union of Electrical Workers struck the plant Nov. 9 over undisclosed local grievances. Westinghouse and the IUEW have remained on the job on a day-to-day basis while negotiations continue.

Truancy Charges Face Lima Students

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Truancy charges have been filed by school officials in Allen County Juvenile Court against 32 students who have been boycotting classes at Lima South High School.

The boycott, which began Nov. 18, is being staged by the Concerned Parents Organization in an effort to force the firing of principal John Wolfe, who the group says has a long history of poor relations with black students and parents.

Conrad And Bean 'Initiated' Gordon Crossing Equator

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — Laughing it up just as they did on the moon, the Apollo 12 lunar explorers badgered "Luneywog" Richard F. Gordon Jr. with hijinks as they neared today's landing in Hawaii.

Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean could not contain their glee when a gloomy Gordon appeared at the window of their quarantine van with this sign around his neck:

"Beware! Luney wog. Unclean! Unpredictable!"

What's more, Gordon had his hat and flight suit on backward. Gordon, a Navy man like Conrad and Bean, had never before crossed the equator aboard ship. That meant he was a "pollywog," or in his case a "luney wog," recalling Gordon's 36 hours in lunar orbit.

As luck would have it, he was bottled up in the quarantine van with four "shellbacks"—the two astronauts and the doctor and technician also in quarantine, all of whom had crossed the equator before.

Conrad and Bean, who laughed merrily as they puttered about the moon while Gordon stayed behind in the mothership, bragged that they had made Gordon stay up late at night since splashdown Monday.

The astronauts actually crossed the equator Wednesday but Conrad and Bean decided to wait until Thanksgiving Day to pull the traditional seagoing initiation on their crewmate.

The Hornet arrives late today in Pearl Harbor, where a 20-minute welcoming ceremony is planned. The silver quarantine van will be loaded on a flatbed trailer and driven to Hickam Air Force Base for a flight aboard an Air Force cargo plane to Ellington AFB near Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center. They are scheduled to arrive there at dawn Saturday.

Conrad, Gordon and Bean, who blasted from their homeland 15 days ago, must stay quarantined in the lunar receiving laboratory at the Space Center until Dec. 10.

Twelve men ranging from physicians to cooks will be isolated with the three space voyagers, along with Dr. Clarence Jernigan and technician Brock Randall Stone, who have been shut off with the spacemen since splashdown.

The astronauts completed four days of "self-debriefing" into tape recorders Thursday and observed Thanksgiving with a specially prepared turkey dinner heated in a microwave oven.

Defense Spending Shows Big Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense spending rose to $80.3 billion during July, August and September, the Commerce Department reports.

Asst. Secretary Harold C. Passer added that defense purchases of goods and services during the third quarter increased $1.8 billion on a seasonally adjusted rate, primarily due to a pay hike.

Without the $2.5 billion pay raise last summer, Passer said, the total would have declined. Purchases during the three months totaled 8.5 per cent of the gross national product, the same as in the second quarter, he added.

on the moon's surface.

The eclipse footage was taken by astronauts as they started back to earth. Alan L. Bean called it "the most spectacular sight of the whole flight."

A final view in black and white and the earth appears coal black with the dying sunlight rimming its edge in white.

The view is as old as earth and sun, but Apollo 12 was the first space flight to put men and cameras in the right location in space to capture the scene on film.

The short film, a compilation of scenes taken throughout the 10-day Apollo 12 flight, also included views of Charles Conrad Jr. walking on the surface of the moon.

He appears as a white-suited, faceless figure walking stiff-legged across a field of charcoal. The lunar soil appears dark grey, pitted with craters and strewn with rocks.

Conrad is seen in a small crater, gathering rock with a scoop. His space suit is startling in its whiteness against that gloomy world of black ground.

Highway Toll Kills 222 So Far

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Accidents on the nation's highways during the long Thanksgiving holiday had claimed the lives of 222 persons by early today.

Among the worst accidents was the flaming collision Thursday of two cars west of Richmond, Va., that killed five persons, including a minister, his wife and their child.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 700 to 800 persons may die in the period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

Boy Dying From Bomb In Athens

ATHENS (AP) — Doctors gave up hope today for George Nastos, the 2½-year-old boy critically injured in an Arab commando bomb attack at the El Al airline offices in Athens Thursday.

A surgeon at Children's Hospital in Athens said the boy was still in a coma and "unfortunately he has no chances of survival" despite brain surgery performed all day Thursday.

Nastos' 4-year-old brother, Athanasios, lost an eye in the blast and was also in serious condition, but not on the same degree as his brother, the surgeon said.

Six other persons, including four women—one of them Mrs. Charles Macleyn, 50, Dallas, Tex.—were still in hospital but not on the critical list. Six of the 14 victims were released from the hospital after treatment for minor injuries.

Police are holding Elias Berg Dergarabedian, a 23-year-old tailor from Amman, Jordan, apprehended after the attack, and another accomplice identified as Mansour Seifeddin Murad Zugageh, 21, also of Amman and a medical student at Athens University.

Dergarabedian told police that he belonged to a Jordanian commando organization and that he was sent on a "special mission" to Athens to attack the El Al offices.

Rookie Cop Locks Self Inside Car

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — A rookie policeman ordered a motorist to the side of the road to give him a traffic ticket.

But the officer accidentally locked the patrol car door as he got out, and the keys were still in the ignition. His citation book was on the front seat.

So the officer delivered a stern lecture to the motorist and let him go.

Then the policeman opened the back door and tried to fish out the keys through steel mesh that separates the rear prisoners' seat from the driver.

Suddenly, a passing car looked as if it might hit the open door so the officer slammed it shut and found himself locked in the prisoner compartment, which doesn't have door handles.

The officer radioed for help on his walkie-talkie.

Police Chief Harold Benadom left his family at Thanksgiving dinner to rescue the trapped policeman, whom officers politely declined to identify.

Governor Served 6 Days In 1869

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia had a governor who served only six days.

He was Daniel Duane Tompkins Farnsworth, the second governor, who served from Feb. 27 to March 3, 1869.

He succeeded Arthur I. Borman who resigned to become a U.S. senator. Farnsworth served until the third governor, William Erskine Stevenson, took office.

Thanksgiving Brings Mostly Good Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Only scattered areas of inclement weather disturbed the holiday atmosphere as the second day of the Thanksgiving weekend dawned across the nation.

Tribe Has Thanksgiving On Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Indians in feathered bonnets danced and smoked peace pipes as they marked Thanksgiving on Alcatraz Island.
The setting was tranquil, in contrast to days past when Al Capone and other arch criminals were imprisoned on "The Rock."
Just before lining up for a buffet-style meal, one Indian read a "Thanksgiving Song" which said: "Tall Blackhawk stands with Sitting Bull. Wise Tecumseh speaks with Great Cochise. And all the tribes in all the lands send up the song for victory and peace."

The Indians were joined in the traditional turkey feast by a few palefaces—their attorney and the former prison island's caretaker and their wives, a few food donors and several newsmen.

The Indians, numbering more than 150, are in their eighth day on the island. They demand the federal government give them the 21-acre rock along with funds for an Indian cultural and education center.
Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel has agreed to talk with them, provided the Indians make no preconditions for negotiating.

Sheriff Sends Men Home

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Trumbull County was reported quiet Thursday as Sheriff Robert W. Barnett operated as a one-man patrol force after sending his 50 deputies home Wednesday night on an 11-day leave.

Barnett scheduled only shifts of one jailer and one dispatcher to remain on duty at all times and handle 50 prisoners and phone calls. The leave will make up for unpaid holiday wages.

Barnett said accident calls will be referred to the State Highway Patrol and non-emergency criminal investigations will be postponed until his deputies return.

Other county employees have threatened to walk off their jobs today if the county commissioners don't promise them January paychecks for December work. The county is finishing the year $500,000 to $600,000 in the red and today's regular pay for the 723 county workers will deplete payroll funds for the year.

fair and dry weather was spreading from the Pacific across the Midwest and into northern New England.
Precipitation early today was limited to the Deep South and the lower Great Lakes.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for today in portions of New Mexico and Texas with occasional snow and some sleet falling throughout the warning area.
A light snow moved through the lower Great Lakes region during the morning hours after blanketing the southern part of lower Michigan with two to three inches.

Some light rain was reported falling in Florida and along a cold front from the southern Appalachians to eastern Texas.

Mild temperatures were confined to Florida and southern California, with readings in the 60s and 70s, while the rest of the nation shivered.

Temperatures were below freezing from New England to the Sierra Nevada and the interior sections of the Pacific Northwest.
Predawn temperatures ranged from 5 at Massena,

N.Y., and Houlton, Maine, to 74 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.
Other temperatures and conditions reported around the nation included: Boston 34 cloudy; New York 37 clear, Philadelphia 36 cloudy; Washington 41 cloudy.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS
Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, Clerk of the Board of Education of the Logan Elm Local School District, Pickaway County, Ohio, at her office in the Logan Elm High School Building, the address of which is Route 4, Circleville, Ohio 43113, until 12:00 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 10th day of December, 1969, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read for the purchase of bonds of the Board in the aggregate amount of $1,500,000, authorized by resolution passed November 10, 1969. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Improvement Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of January, 1970, shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, beginning June 1, 1970, at the rate of six per centum (6 per cent) per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 8 per cent provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature $70,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1971 to 1985, inclusive; and $75,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1986 to 1991, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of constructing a new 7th and 8th grade school building, adding to and improving the existing high school building library facilities, furnishing and equipping buildings for school purposes and equipping, landscaping and otherwise improving school sites; are payable at the office of the legal depository of the Board, presently The Second National Bank of Circleville, Ohio, without deduction for its services as the Board's paying agent, and are supported by unlimited taxes.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than one and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. The expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bidder. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the Board, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of said bonds, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the Board unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense and will be printed on the bonds at the Board's expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the Board will meet at 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the 10th day of December, 1969, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the state of Ohio to the purchaser or to a bank designated by the purchaser without charge. If delivered at a place outside the State of Ohio, the purchaser shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the Board shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery; provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the Board or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and as long as no such tender by the Board shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to her office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation; such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Brandt Says Bonn To Sign Atom Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt announced today that West Germany will sign the treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Brandt told a news conference that West German ambassadors in Moscow, London and Washington had been instructed to sign the treaty later in the day.

He said the decision to add West Germany's signature was made at a cabinet meeting this morning.

West Germany thus becomes the 25th of the 43 nations needed to approve the pact. The United States and the Soviet Union completed their ratification Monday.

Bonn's approval is significant because West Germany is one of the dozen or so nations with nuclear potential that had been delaying ratification. Of these nations, only Canada has approved the treaty although Sweden is expected to shortly.

Brandt said ratification—the approval by both houses of the West German Parliament—will wait until the atomic agencies of the Common Market's and the United Nations work out an acceptable agreement on inspections.

Miss World Is Chosen

LONDON (AP) — Thousands cheered the new Miss World, a blonde model from Vienna, but women demonstrators demanding "liberation" of their sex booted as actor Omar Sharif crowned the winner Thursday night.

Squads of police patrolled the Albert Hall ballroom to keep order among the protesters as 20-year-old Eva Rueber-Staier accepted the title and said: "The first thing I want is my boy friend over here."

"Being Miss World isn't going to make any difference to my marriage plans," she said. The date is "sometime next year and we hope to have two or three children."

Miss Rueber-Staier, who measures 36-23-36 won out over 49 other contestants. She will receive $6,000 in prize money and $27,000 in personal appearance fees.

Miss United States, Gail Renshaw, 22, of Arlington, Va., came in second and picked up a $1,200 prize, which she plans to use to pay off the mortgage on her parents' home. The frosty-haired accountant with a 39-25-37 figure said afterwards:

"I'm through with the beauty contest business. I plan to stick with accounting and work for a degree."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television viewer who doesn't like parades and football has, on Thanksgiving Day, about as much fun as the holiday houseguest who can't stand turkey.

CBS and NBC devoted the entire morning to those department store parades which over the television years have become as much a part of Thanksgiving as pumpkin pie. With

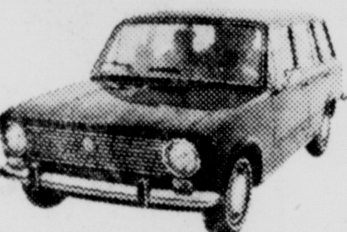

Birds Attack Man On Mountaintop

FRANSCHHOEK, South Africa (AP) — Frenzied birds attacked mountaineer Roy Allen as he crouched under a rock overhanging high on a mountaintop.

Allen said he was about 300 feet from the summit of a mountain above his farm near here when the birds, similar to swallows, swooped down on him "like dive-bombers" for 15 minutes. "It was a terrifying experience. Fortunately I was sufficiently sheltered for them to veer within a foot of me, but it was rather uncomfortable while it lasted."

elaborate street circus. Pony and dog acts, clowns, well-rehearsed precision dancers and marching bands performed on the asphalt in front of the sponsoring store.

Although the floats, music and giant balloons are officially to honor the arrival of Santa Claus, the spirit of commercialism competed with the spirit of good will. The programs were liberally laced with sponsors' messages and for good measure there were frequent, informal business luminaries who showed up.

Lorne Greene of "Bonanza," one of the hosts on the NBC program, learned the perils of ad-libbing while filling air time between acts. He saw some clowns dressed as comedy firemen and observed that he is a volunteer fireman in Hollywood. Then he added, "We keep the fires going until the professional firemen get there."

A short time later, Greene earnestly explained he was only fooling—volunteer firemen, he said, really do a great job. There had been, he said, some complaints received about his remark.

Compared with Greene's mild sally, Alan King's "Music Hall" hour on NBC Wednesday night was sharp satire of popular consumer beefs:

One sketch had an adjuster for a fire insurance company finding little damage in a burned out room. Another had a frantic father-to-be trying to get his wife admitted to a hospital while the admitting nurse and a doctor ignored him. Another consisted of bitter King fun about the frailty of some electrical equipment.

Alan King must be conditioned to complaints since his stock-in-trade is shooting sharp, comedy-coated darts at business and the professions. May-be he can get away with it because everyone knows he is a comedian and therefore one is supposed to laugh.

Lorne Greene, on the other hand, has the public image of big, serious Ben Cartwright, fast on the draw but slow with the funnies

Brandt Says Bonn To Sign Atom Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt announced today that West Germany will sign the treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Brandt told a news conference that West German ambassadors in Moscow, London and Washington had been instructed to sign the treaty later in the day.

He said the decision to add West Germany's signature was made at a cabinet meeting this morning.

West Germany thus becomes the 25th of the 43 nations needed to approve the pact. The United States and the Soviet Union completed their ratification Monday.

Bonn's approval is significant because West Germany is one of the dozen or so nations with nuclear potential that had been delaying ratification. Of these nations, only Canada has approved the treaty although Sweden is expected to shortly.

Brandt said ratification—the approval by both houses of the West German Parliament—will wait until the atomic agencies of the Common Market and the United Nations work out an acceptable agreement on inspections.

Miss World Is Chosen

LONDON (AP) — Thousands cheered the new Miss World, a blonde model from Vienna, but women demonstrators demanding "liberation" of their sex booed as actor Omar Sharif crowned the winner Thursday night.

Squads of police patrolled the Albert Hall ballroom to keep order among the protesters as 20-year-old Eva Rueber-Staier accepted the title and said: "The first thing I want is my boy friend over here."

"Being Miss World isn't going to make any difference to my marriage plans," she said. The date is "sometime next year and we hope to have two or three children."

Miss Rueber-Staier, who measures 36-23-36 won out over 49 other contestants. She will receive $6,000 in prize money and $27,000 in personal appearance fees.

Miss United States, Gail Renshaw, 22, of Arlington, Va., came in second and picked up a $1,200 prize, which she plans to use to pay off the mortgage on her parents' home. The frosty-haired accountant with a 39-25-37 figure said afterwards:

"I'm through with the beauty contest business. I plan to stick with accounting and work for a degree."

NEW YORK (AP) — The television viewer who doesn't like parades and football has, on Thanksgiving Day, about as much fun as the holiday houseguest who can't stand turkey.

CBS and NBC devoted the entire morning to those department store parades which over the television years have become as much a part of Thanksgiving as pumpkin pie. With

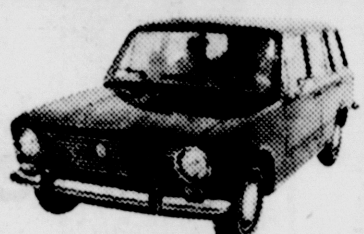

Birds Attack Man On Mountaintop

FRANSCHHOEK, South Africa (AP) — Frenzied birds attacked mountaineer Roy Allen as he crouched under a rock overhang high on a mountaintop.

Allen said he was about 300 feet from the summit of a mountain above his farm near here when the birds, similar to swallows, swooped down on him "like dive-bombers" for 15 minutes. "It was a terrifying experience. Fortunately I was sufficiently sheltered for them to veer within a foot of me, but it was rather uncomfortable while it lasted."

elaborate street circus. Pony and dog acts, clowns, well-rehearsed precision dancers and marching bands performed on the asphalt in front of the sponsoring store.

Although the floats, music and giant balloons are officially to honor the arrival of Santa Claus, the spirit of commercialism competed with the spirit of good will. The programs were liberally laced with sponsors' messages and for good measure there were frequent, informal business luminaries who showed up.

Lorne Greene of "Bonanza," one of the hosts on the NBC program, learned the perils of ad-libbing while filling air time between acts. He saw some clowns dressed as comedy firemen and observed that he is a volunteer fireman in Hollywood. Then he added, "We keep the fires going until the professional firemen get there."

A short time later, Greene earnestly explained he was only fooling—volunteer firemen, he said, really do a great job. There had been, he said, some complaints received about his remark.

Compared with Greene's mild sally, Alan King's "Music Hall" hour on NBC Wednesday night was sharp satire of popular consumer beefs:

One sketch had an adjuster for a fire insurance company finding little damage in a burned out room. Another had a frantic father to be trying to get his wife admitted to a hospital while the admitting nurse and a doctor ignored him. Another consisted of bitter King fun about the frailty of some electrical equipment.

Alan King must be conditioned to complaints since his stock-in-trade is shooting sharp, comedy-coated darts at business and the professions. Maybe he can get away with it because everyone knows he is a comedian and therefore one is supposed to laugh.

Lorne Greene, on the other hand, has the public image of big, serious Ben Cartwright, fast on the draw but slow with the funnies.

Man Seeks Santa Recruits For New England Stores

BOSTON (AP) — Charles Dermitt is looking for men "who want to be yelled at, clawed at—who will pretend

THE LEGISLATURE WILL BE A PIPE for Mrs. Millicent Fenwick, assemblywoman-elect in New Jersey. She is a Republican from Somerset and is shown watching a session.

Falcon Blown Off Course; Is Lost

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — If anyone sees Missy Bell, she is a two-year-old Red-tailed Hawk with a three-foot wingspread and the pride and joy of Herbert Koepf-Baker.

Koepf-Baker, a Southern Illinois professor, was flying Missy Bell when a gust of wind caused her to lose her bearings and then sight of her master. Koepf-Baker hasn't seen the bird since.

Koepf-Baker is one of the few practitioners of the ancient sport of falconry in the United States.

Schedule Autopsy In Patient Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy was scheduled today to determine the cause of death of an Akron woman who died at Akron City Hospital a few hours after undergoing a kidney transplant.

Vera Kunkler, 52, who received a new kidney in an eight-hour operation, died Thursday. The surgical team that performed the operation said the kidney appeared to be functioning well.

they are something that means everything in the world to these kids."

Dermitt recruits Santa Claus for about 30 New England stores, and says only one out of every seven or eight men he interviews is hired.

"I'm not interested in physical appearances. I'm interested in the guts inside the man inside the suit," he said in an interview.

"One man I hired was a Negro, 6½ feet tall. But he had feeling and tenderness and wanted to be a Santa Claus. These guys we hire all want to be Santa Claus, and when they're inside that red suit, they are."

As manager of the Boston branch of Western Girl International, an employment agency which recently bought a firm called North Pole Santa Claus, Dermitt is implementing a Western Girl program to spruce up the image of department store Kringles.

The agency's Santas get four hours of schooling based on a "rainin'" manual 1½ inches thick.

The manual includes requirements that Santa use a deodorant and mouth fresheners, and have a box of tissues handy for the times when youngsters try to impale his cheek with their candy canes. It also gives answers for questions that are as sticky as Santa's beard.

If the child says: "I saw you a few minutes ago at another store. How come?" Santa replies: "I saw you, too, but we didn't get a chance to talk. I guess I just beat you over here."

Dermitt said studies show that one of every 13 girls who talks to Santa asks for a baby brother. Santa's reply: "My job is to bring gifts to nice little girls like you. What you ask is out of my department. However, if you go home and pray to your God, I'm sure things will work out."

"You have to be honest with him," Dermitt said. "The days or promise-them-anything are gone. These kids are sharp. Besides, they have enough problems without Santa lying to them."

Young Rips Massacre

WASHINGTON (AP) — The alleged massacre of 109 South Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968 has been described by Sen. Stephen M. Young as "an act of brutality that cannot have been exceeded in Hitler's time."

Young expressed shock after the House and Senate Armed Services committees viewed colored slides Wednesday showing mangled bodies of children, and mothers pleading for mercy.

The Ohio Democrat, who termed the incident an "indescribable atrocity, murder at point blank range," said he had received reports of other possible atrocities in Vietnam involving U.S. troops.

Young said he had talked to Ronald L. Haeberle, a college graduate from Cleveland who was a combat photographer at My Lai and took pictures of the alleged murders.

He said Haeberle told him he was "told by an officer not to write his congressman" about the atrocity, adding that "officers in Vietnam were responsible for covering up the incident" after "they first white-washed it."

UL Offers Yule Safety Suggestions

CHICAGO (AP) — With the time for putting up Christmas decorations at hand, Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., offered today several suggestions in the interest of safety.

UL placed special stress on warnings against overloading electrical circuits with more lights than they can safely handle, and on an inspection before use of decorative lights.

The greatest peril of the circuit overload, UL said, is that it may not be heavy enough to blow a fuse but could cause the wire to overheat and melt insulation, opening the way for fire or electrocution.

Strings of lights and extension cords that have been stored could have deteriorated, UL said, and these should be thoroughly inspected. UL's other suggestions:

- Don't work on light strings that are plugged in.
- Don't stretch light strings or extension wiring.
- Don't place flammable material near floodlights.
- Keep electrical fixtures out of the reach of children.
- Don't use string lights on a metallic tree.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

Miss Bonita Heft and mother of Logan were Monday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wingett.

The Pleasant Valley Home Economic Club met Thursday with an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Poling. At noon a carry-in dinner was served.

For Devotions Miss Alice DeLong read the 100 Psalm, Poem "The Joy of Living" and Prayer. The new by-laws were read by the secretary Mrs. Rudolph Ebert. Mrs. Burnell Karshner gave a talk on the Council she attended at Logan in November.

Mrs. Earl DeLong gave a very interesting talk on buffet dinners and also gave helpful information on proper setting of a buffet table.

A gift was sent to Mrs. Murell Karshner who is in the hospital. There will also be a gift exchange at next meeting in December. Those present were: Mrs. Herman DeLong, Miss Alice DeLong, Mrs. Alice Kellenberger, Mrs. Rudolph Ebert, Mrs. Charles Pritchard, Mrs. Fred Weidman, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mrs. Burnell Karshner, Mrs. Hugh Poling, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Dan DeLong, Mrs. Dale Van Curren, Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, and Mrs. Ray Poling. Christmas shoes and different things out of felt were made.

Rock Huggins and sister Raemae Huggins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huggins of near Circleville were weekend guests of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Huggins.

Mrs. Howard Egan, Mrs. Roger Egan and Mrs. Phyllis Strous were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening, Nov. 7 honoring Miss Judy Graves, bride-elect of Michael T. Rose. Their wedding will be an event of Dec. 14 in the Laurel Hills Church in Laurelville.

Francis Harmon and children left Friday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens of Florida. Mrs. Harmon who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, will return home with her family.

A family get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Edwards in Lancaster the evening of Nov. 11 in honor of the 78th birthday of their uncle, Joseph Elick. Those attending from Laurelville were Mr. Elick's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. George Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Tisdale and Jeff and Mrs. Helen Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Butts are visiting relatives in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seimer entertained Saturday evening in honor of their daughter's Leash's seventh birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fetherolf and Mr. and Mrs. David Fetherolf and family.

HIRED TO HELP—Two Montagnard mercenaries, their heads wrapped in scarves against the cold, hired to help defend Bu Prang, South Vietnam, carry their sand bags slung from an M-16 rifle. The base at Bu Prang is surrounded.

Laurelville News
By Mrs. Roy Poling

Miss Bonita Heft and mother of Logan were Monday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wingett.

The Pleasant Valley Home Economic Club met Thursday with an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Poling. At noon a carry-in dinner was served.

For Devotions Miss Alice DeLong read the 100 Psalm, Poem "The Joy of Living" and Prayer. The new by-laws were read by the secretary Mrs. Rudolph Ebert. Mrs. Burnell Karshner gave a talk on the Council she attended at Logan in November.

Mrs. Earl DeLong gave a very interesting talk on buffet dinners and also gave helpful information on proper setting of a buffet table.

A gift was sent to Mrs. Murell Karshner who is in the hospital. There will also be a gift exchange at next meeting in December. Those present were: Mrs. Herman DeLong, Miss Alice DeLong, Mrs. Alice Kellenberger, Mrs. Rudolph Ebert, Mrs. Charles Pritchard, Mrs. Fred Weidman, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mrs. Burnell Karshner, Mrs. Hugh Poling, Mrs. Earl DeLong, Mrs. Dan DeLong, Mrs. Dale Van Curren, Mrs. Dorothy Haynes, and Mrs. Ray Poling. Christmas shoes and different things out of felt were made.

Rock Huggins and sister Raemae Huggins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huggins of near Circleville were weekend guests of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Huggins.

Mrs. Howard Egan, Mrs. Roger Egan and Mrs. Phyllis Strous were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening, Nov. 7 honoring Miss Judy Graves, bride-elect of Michael T. Rose. Their wedding will be an event of Dec. 14 in the Laurel Hills Church in Laurelville.

Francis Harmon and children left Friday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens of Florida. Mrs. Harmon who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, will return home with her family.

A family get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Edwards in Lancaster the evening of Nov. 11 in honor of the 78th birthday of their uncle, Joseph Elick. Those attending from Laurelville were Mr. Elick's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. George Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Tisdale and Jeff and Mrs. Helen Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Butts are visiting relatives in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seimer entertained Saturday evening in honor of their daughter's Leash's seventh birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fetherolf and Mr. and Mrs. David Fetherolf and family.

HIRED TO HELP—Two Montagnard mercenaries, their heads wrapped in scarves against the cold, hired to help defend Bu Prang, South Vietnam, carry their sand bags slung from an M-16 rifle. The base at Bu Prang is surrounded.

Varsity Cheering Squad Starts Winter Season

TIGER SPIRIT — Putting the cap on a frisky Tiger football season, cheerleaders Jodi Steele, left; Beth Smith, Vicki Ralston, Debbie Lowe and Joyce Ankrom have now turned their efforts toward a victorious basketball season.

By CINDY BARNHILL and DEBBIE MOORE

This year CHS has been led in cheering by a very peppy group of girls.

Joyce Ankrom, captain, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, 130 Grites Road. Joyce also has two sisters, Betsy and Patty and a brother, John.

Joyce, a senior, has been a cheerleader for six years. This is her second year as captain. She feels that the captain's duties are "to be a spokesman for the group."

This being her last year as a cheerleader, Joyce feels that "it is a lot of fun, a lot of work, but I don't think I'll miss it." In her spare time she thinks about Mark, sews and sleeps.

Other activities that keep her busy are GAA, SOS, and co-chairman for Student Council.

Joyce plans to attend college after graduation at Kent State or Ohio State University.

Betsy Bach, a junior at CHS, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bach Jr., and sister, Barb.

This is Betsy's third year as a cheerleader and she feels that the school "Needs more spirit than it has, but it has improved

Spacemobile Topic Of CHS Assembly

RICHARD ATHEY

By RICK WITHERS

Most CHS students were wondering what a Spacemobile assembly would be like. Some students were wondering if they were going to be able to join Pete Conrad on the moon as this assembly was presented the same day that Conrad and Alan Bean rendezvous with Richard Gordon to prepare for their journey home.

On November 20, Richard C. Athey, a representative of National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), spoke to the students of CHS about the NASA Spacemobile. The NASA Spacemobile, a lecture-demonstration used as a teaching aid for the space sciences, is conducted by professional educators who are highly informed on the space sciences and the activities of NASA.

The lecture lasted one hour, and included discussions and demonstrations of aerodynamics, rocketry, propulsion systems, satellites, probes, orbits, communications, human factors, and manned spacecraft.

The programs are presented without charge to the requesting school.

Cosmetology Lecture Held

Representatives from The Ohio State School of Cosmetology visited CHS Nov. 19 to give demonstrations on several parts of cosmetology.

Girls from all of Mrs. Betty Rickey's Home Ec. classes and the FHA club watched while Mrs. Strudivant, an instructor at the school, showed slides of what cosmetology school-life is like. The slides showed girls who attend the school in various stages of hair styling, setting and coloring. Famous beauty shops in Columbus were also viewed.

Four students from the cosmetology school — Mary Hipsler, Linda Crabtree, Mary Yontz and Lisa Westkamp — gave two demonstrations. The first demonstration, with one girl working on the other, showed the origin of a certain holiday hairstyle and how the style was created and finished. The second demonstration showed how make-up used in the right way could make a girl more attractive.

During both demonstrations Mrs. Strudivant answered many questions asked by the girls. The demonstration was closed with Mrs. Strudivant showing a picture of the Ohio State School of Cosmetology's insignia, the neferette, and explaining its history.

Snow Ball Dance Added To High School Activities

By MIKE VAUGHAN

Preparations for the first annual Snow Ball dance, sponsored by the Circleville High School Science Club, are in full swing with the dance less than three weeks away.

Cindi Radcliff, treasurer of the club, is heading up arrangements with the aid of Sandy Rich.

Committee chairmen include Mindy Woods, entertainment and entrance; Cheri Peters, walls; Angie Justice, tables; Brenda O'Dell, stage; Sandy Rich, throne; Andy Hoffman, publicity; Mark Lackey, tickets; Vicky Rhoads, refreshments and Dale Hukill, sound and lights. Bob Thomas will be master of ceremonies at the dance.

Snow Ball is scheduled for Dec. 13 from 8 to 12 p.m. The Kensingtons will provide entertainment. Tickets can be bought from any Science Club member.

Crowing of the queen will be the main event of the dance. All clubs and classes will have candidates and a team of five judges from the faculty, will determine who the Snow Queen will be.

All entries must be in by Dec. 8. Voting will be held Dec. 10 thru Dec. 12. An interview of in the office practice room.

The process of making the cards isn't very easy. First the design is traced on onion skin paper, then on a stencil on the mimeoscope. It is then taken off the mimeoscope and the verse typed on. The next step is to run it off the mimeograph machine. Then they are ready to decorate. After the girls have completed their decorating, the cards are ready to send.

Book Curator New To CHS

BARBARA TAYLOR

By BETH SMITH

The new librarian at CHS is Barbara Taylor, who resides at Gale Court. Before moving to Circleville, Miss Taylor lived in Columbus, where she was a management analyst for the government.

She is a lieutenant in the Naval reserve and has served as a Wave in the Navy in Hawaii, California and Florida. As a tourist she has traveled in Ireland, Great Britain, Germany, Denmark, the Netherlands and Belgium.

Miss Taylor was graduated from Youngstown State University. She became a librarian because she liked to read books. In her spare time she enjoys doing needle work.

Miss Taylor commented that she likes Circleville very much and she thinks the students are very nice.

Jewish Fete Explained

By PAM CRABTREE

Hanukkah is a Jewish festival, known also as the Feast of Dedication or the Festival of Lights, commemorating the victory of the Maccabees over the Syrian Greeks in 165 B. C. Hanukkah begins on the 25th of Kislev (occurring in November or December, falling on Dec. 5 this year) and lasts eight days. Hanukkah is celebrated today by the lighting of candles — beginning with one on the first day and increasing until eight are lit. During the festival hymns are added to the synagogue service, and general merry making prevails.

In the period following the destruction of the Temple in 70 A.D. and the loss of Jewish independence, the nationalistic character of the festival was modified, and a miracle of religious significance assumed an important place in the Hanukkah story. According to the account in the Talmud, only one small cruse of holy oil could be found when the Temple was rededicated. Miraculously this oil burned for eight days until new oil could be prepared, and Hanukkah is therefore celebrated for eight days.

Betsy keeps herself busy in GAA, SOS and as ring chairman of the Junior Class.

When asked how she felt while leading the cheers Betsy replied, "Disappointment in the number of kids that don't yell, but thankful for the ones that do."

Betsy plans to attend college after she graduates, but is indefinite as to where.

Vicki Ralston, another senior on the squad, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ralston, at 564 North Pickaway St.

This is Vicki's fifth year as a cheerleader and when asked how she felt about it she replied, "Old! It's been time consuming, hard work and lots of fun, plus I'll miss all the great experiences I've had."

Vicki was also given a great honor this year being elected 1969 Homecoming Queen.

In her spare time she sews, dreams and waits on Ron. Vicki is also kept busy with GAA, Curtain Callers and Student Council.

She is planning to attend Miami and major in Phys. Ed., in addition to furthering her education in dancing.

Snow Ball Dance Added To High School Activities

By MIKE VAUGHAN

Preparations for the first annual Snow Ball dance, sponsored by the Circleville High School Science Club, are in full swing with the dance less than three weeks away.

Cindi Radcliff, treasurer of the club, is heading up arrangements with the aid of Sandy Rich.

Committee chairmen include Mindy Woods, entertainment and entrance; Cheri Peters, walls; Angie Justice, tables; Brenda O'Dell, stage; Sandy Rich, throne; Andy Hoffman, publicity; Mark Lackey, tickets; Vicky Rhoades, refreshments and Dale Hukill, sound and lights. Bob Thomas will be master of ceremonies at the dance.

Snow Ball is scheduled for Dec. 13 from 8 to 12 p.m. The Kensingtons will provide entertainment. Tickets can be bought from any Science Club member.

Crowing of the queen will be the main event of the dance. All clubs and classes will have candidates and a team of five judges from the faculty, will determine who the Snow Queen will be.

All entries must be in by Dec. 8. Voting will be held Dec. 10 thru Dec. 12. An interview of in the office practice room.

The process of making the cards isn't very easy. First the design is traced on onion skin paper, then on a stencil on the mimeoscope. It is then taken off the mimeoscope and the verse typed on. The next step is to run it off the mimeograph machine. Then they are ready to decorate. After the girls have completed their decorating, the cards are ready to send.

the candidates will be held at 10 p.m. and the crowning at 11 p.m.

Any profits made on the dance will go to pay for the club's annual spring tour. This year the tour includes Niagara Falls and lower New York.

Tiger Cat's Eye View

By BILLY THOMAS

After perfect forecasts in last week's cage action, confidence seems to be bulging, so here goes:

Logan Elm over Carroll. Any team that can give Teays Valley a game like the Braves did in their 93-81 loss last week has a great chance to rap the rebuilding Carroll team.

Teays Valley over Hamilton Vikings are averaging 84 points a game and that is tough to argue with. The big question lies in the Rangers' ability to stop sharp-shooting Dale Lambert, who canned 89 points in last week's games. The crystal ball says they won't.

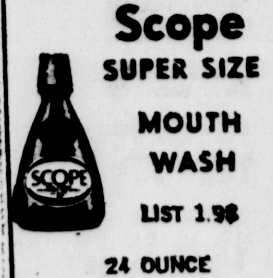

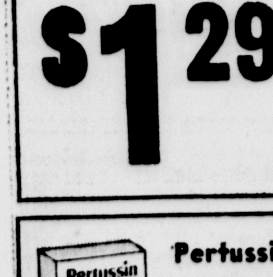

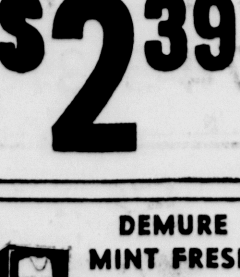

Circleville to upset Wilmington. Hurricane is the preseason favorite to win the league but always has trouble with the Tigers. Mike Graham, a pesky 5' 10" guard will give the Tigers fits, but Wilmington will have their hands full in trying to contain deadly Randy Halley.

Teays Valley over Westfall. This is the big one in Pickaway County. Lambert and Co. should wipe out Bigam's Brigade. Elsewhere around the SCOL:

WCH over Greenfield and Miami Trace to beat Hillsboro.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Married Men Irk Ski Bunny

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of girls in our late 20's who love to ski! The social life at night is marvelous. But we have one big problem.

MARRIED MEN! What is wrong with wives who let their husbands come up to a ski resort alone for a week-end? Are they naive? Or just plain stupid?

We girls are free, and are out for a good time, but basically we are looking for husbands. These married men probably tell their wives they ski all day and are too tired at night to do anything but sleep. (I wish their wives could see them at night. They are peppier than the bachelors.)

We do not want to get involved with married men, but how can we tell who is married?

Our only hope is for you to tell the wives to smarten up and either go with their husbands or keep them at home.

BUNNY
DEAR BUNNY: There is no way for a girl to tell whether or not a man she meets on the slopes, the beach or any other place men hang out is on the level. Her only protection is her own common sense. She should beware of giving too much of her heart (or anything else) to a man she knows only casually.

DEAR ABBY: My mother died recently, and the night she died Mom's sisters went over to Dad's house and went through all Mom's things and took what they wanted. My dad was home, but he is blind, and was still in a state of shock over Mom's death so he couldn't be expected to stop them.

My question is this: Did they have a right to do this without first consulting my brother and me? And isn't it considered unethical to do this before the funeral?

I might add that I am furious because I left a pair of MY shoes at the house while I was staying there taking care of Dad during Mom's illness, and they even took THEM.

MRS. B.
DEAR MRS. B.: I can't imagine anyone wanting ANYTHING that desperately. Your aunts were clearly out of line. Ask your Dad to tell them to bring back everything they took until HE decides who shall get what. And if he's too timid, your lawyer can put it in a letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am an amateur photographer and I process my own film.

When my wife first became pregnant, several months ago, I asked if I could accompany her into the delivery room to take pictures of her giving birth to our firstborn child. At first she hesitated, but she finally agreed.

I purchased a very expensive high quality camera and have been looking forward to getting some exceptional shots of this "big event."

Now as the time draws nearer, my wife tells me that she has changed her mind and would be "embarrassed" for me to take such pictures. I would do my own developing so no one but my wife and I would see these photos.

Do you think she is being fair to me?

STATEN ISLANDER
DEAR STATEN ISLANDER:

It's a woman's prerogative to change her mind, and I don't blame her.

Senate Plans Germ Pact OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's call for ratification of an aged treaty to prohibit initial use of gas or germs as weapons of war has been added to a clogged Senate docket with a Democratic pledge of action within a month.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the treaty, first proposed 44 years ago, should be approved this year.

The Senate plans to adjourn its current session by Dec. 23.

"I can see no reason why there should be any controversy," Mansfield said after Nixon returned the long dormant treaty to the Senate.

Nixon's pledge to destroy existing stockpiles of bacteriological weapons prompted Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to suggest that the Soviet Union might take similar action.

Fulbright promised the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will act without delay, but set no time for action.

The United States took a major role in shaping the 1925 agreement at a conference in Geneva, but the Senate never acted on it.

The Geneva protocol prohibits first use of "asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and of bacteriological methods of warfare."

The administration early this year barred first use of germ or gas weapons, but excluded defoliation agents and tear gas.

In his announcement Tuesday, Nixon reaffirmed this renunciation, and extended it to cover first use of chemicals which incapacitate without killing.

Nixon said the United States would never employ germ warfare, even if an enemy did so first. He said U.S. research in that field would be limited to defense measures.

HEADS ARMY PROBE — Lt. Gen. William Peers, shown in his Pentagon office, heads a special investigation to determine if the alleged 1968 massacre of South Vietnamese civilians by U.S. troops was hushed up at the time.

President Puts Draft Plan Into Effect For January

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, who managed to coax a small but important change in draft law through Congress, got a chance to launch his lottery plan Thursday by signing the legislation and an executive order.

The executive order is to implement new Selective Service procedures intended to limit each young man's exposure to the draft to about one year.

The bill simply repeals a 1967 section of the draft law which prevented the President from setting up a lottery system keyed to 19-year-olds.

Many members of Congress originally opposed the lottery bill because they said they wanted a complete overhaul of the system, but they were persuaded to let Nixon try his plan with promises of hearings early next year on more comprehensive legislation.

The procedures to start in January eventually will reduce the most draft eligible group from the present range of 19- to 26-year-olds down to the single year a man is 19 to 20.

Under the 1967 law the oldest in the draft pool were the first called to fill induction quotas.

The new system would have no effect on draft deferments and exemptions. Those deferred or exempt would drop back into the draft pool for one year, however, and be subject to the random selection process, if they lost their special status.

Unless draft calls totaled more than one year's pool of eligible men—and even at the height of the Army's expansion for the Vietnam war, they were far less than the available pool

Ohio Girl Hurt In Plane Crash

WESTMINSTER, Vt. (AP)—Sandra Hoffman, 19, of Fremont, Ohio, hurt Wednesday in a plane crash, remains in serious condition at Rockingham Memorial Hospital.

State police said the light plane, piloted by Clarence Turley, 22, also of Fremont, was attempting to land in a field south of here when a wing tip struck a tree.

The plane cart-wheeled into the front yard of a private residence but missed the house.

Turley escaped with only cuts and bruises. Miss Hoffman suffered back, chest and hip injuries.

President Puts Draft Plan Into Effect For January

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, who managed to coax a small but important change in draft law through Congress, got a chance to launch his lottery plan Thursday by signing the legislation and an executive order.

The executive order is to implement new Selective Service procedures intended to limit each young man's exposure to the draft to about one year.

The bill simply repeals a 1967 section of the draft law which prevented the President from setting up a lottery system limited to 19-year-olds.

Many members of Congress originally opposed the lottery bill because they said they wanted a complete overhaul of the system, but they were persuaded to let Nixon try his plan with promises of hearings early next year on more comprehensive legislation.

The procedures to start in January eventually will reduce the most draft eligible group from the present range of 19-to-26-year-olds down to the single year a man is 19 to 20.

Under the 1967 law the oldest in the draft pool were the first called to fill induction quotas.

The new system would have no effect on draft deferments and exemptions. Those deferred or exempt would drop back into the draft pool for one year, however, and be subject to the random selection process, if they lost their special status.

Unless draft calls totaled more than one year's pool of eligible men—and even at the height of the Army's expansion for the Vietnam war, they were far less than the available pool—a man would only have to wonder for one year whether he would be drafted.

Furthermore, he would know what year he was most liable and would have a pretty good idea of his chances.

The 1970 draft pool would be unusually large, including all of the men currently classified 1-A. The armed forces have been drafting some 300,000 men a year, while the expected 1970-1-A pool is estimated at six times that number. Thus, a man's chances of being drafted from the large 1970 pool would be about one in six.

Texas And Arkansas Win Holiday Football Clashes

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas A&M tried to grab a Texas Wishbone Thanksgiving Day and wound up empty-handed... and Texas Tech just got the bird from Arkansas.

Texas' bone-jarring Longhorns smashed Texas A&M 49-12 despite the Aggies' use of the Wishbone-T offense and Arkansas smothered Texas Tech 33-0 in traditional holiday games Thursday.

Their victories set up a classic battle between top-ranked Texas and second-ranked Arkansas on Dec. 6. Both undefeated in nine games, the Longhorns and Razorbacks meet that day for the Southwest Conference title, a spot in the Cotton Bowl and probably No. 1 ranking.

"We used the Wishbone-T to get fullback Steve Burks and tailback Larry Stagent into the game at the same time," said Texas Tech Coach Gene Stallings. "Our line just wasn't blocking as good as needed."

Stallings added: "Texas is as good a football team as I've ever seen. I know they're the best I've ever played. They are better than I thought."

Arkansas' brutish linemen gobbled up Red Raiders' quarterback Charles Napper.

"Our defense was magnificent," exulted Razorback Coach Frank Broyles.

In the day's only other major game, 14th-ranked Mississippi clouted Mississippi State 48-22 behind the artistry of Archie Manning.

The Longhorns' nation-leading rushers roamed all over the Aggies' defense. Jim Bertelson raced 63 yards for a touchdown on the fourth play of the game—and the Longhorns were off and running for 330 yards.

Meanwhile, in Little Rock, Arkansas was having a regular Thanksgiving Day picnic with Texas Tech. The Razorbacks intercepted five passes and dumped Napper nine times.

"Our game plan against a team that likes to throw is to blitz," said Broyles. "If we are successful we stay with it. And we were successful today."

Texas Tech Coach J. T. King, who lost 49-7 early in the season to Texas, wouldn't compare the two.

Manning passed for two touchdowns and scored two more himself as Mississippi came up with some late lightning to rip Mississippi State.

The Army-Navy game highlights a light football card Saturday. While the two teams in their annual battle in Philadelphia, 12th-ranked Auburn plays Alabama and third-rated Penn State meets North Carolina State.

Knicks Face Cincy Royals In Top NBA Clash Tonight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Knicks, blazing along at a .957 clip, hope to set an all-time winning streak of 18 in a row in the National Basketball Association by beating the Cincinnati Royals in Cleveland tonight.

It's been 10 years since an NBA team has had the opportunity to establish such a historic milestone and a crowd of 10,000 is expected to see if the Knicks can succeed where the Washington Capitals of 1946 and the Boston Celtics of 1959 failed.

And what team foiled the Celtics on Dec. 30, 1959? None other than Cincinnati.

Bob Cousy, then a Celtic star and now player-coach of the Royals, said, "I don't remember very much about that game other than we must have played poorly and they must have played well."

The Knicks go into the game with a record of 22-1, straight from a 138-108 rout of the Atlanta Hawks Wednesday night when they equalled the NBA record of 17 in a row.

The Baltimore Bullets stayed within respectable hailing distance of the Knicks by shading the San Francisco Warriors 118-116 in the only NBA game scheduled Thanksgiving night. The Washington Caps beat the Los Angeles Stars 117-114 in the only game scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Baltimore, whose 16-6 record is overshadowed by the Knicks, now trail the Eastern Division leaders by 3½ games. San Francisco, the only team to beat the Knicks so far this season, held a 59-58 halftime edge, but the Bullets pulled it out in the second half.

Jack Marin triggered Baltimore in the final period, scoring nine of his 28 points as the Bullets won their ninth straight.

Jeff Mullins threw in 42 points to lead the Warriors. Earl Monroe was high for Baltimore with 29.

The Stars, down by 20 points in the third period, almost pulled out a victory over Washington in the ABA, but their late rally was stymied by Mike Barrett's crucial baskets and Larry Brown's foul shooting.

Warren Armstrong was high scorer for Washington with 30 points. Willie Wise topped the Stars with 26.

Arnie Palmer Takes Lead In Heritage

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer held a share of the lead going into today's second round of the $100,000 Heritage Golf Classic—the first time he's been in such a position since his comeback—but the old charger is far, far from satisfied.

"It's one of the best rounds I've had in a long time," Palmer said after shooting a three-under par 68 Thursday for a tie with George Archer in the No. 1 spot.

"But I'm still not putting," Palmer continued.

"If I'd putted like I have in the past, I could have been eight under par after seven holes. It would have been unusual, but it was very possible."

As it was, he birdied three of the first seven, just missing an eagle on the par five second, and played par golf the rest of the way. In all, he missed five putts of six feet or less, and two more from eight feet, an indication of just how strong his long game is.

Archer had more trouble with the double-tough little Harbour Town golf links, an oceanside, 6,655 yard, par 71 layout that Jim Colbert called "the toughest course we've played all year."

Big George had three bogeys, once from a trap, once from the deep rough and once from the water. But he had six birds, only one from more than 10 feet.

Colbert, a balding young regular, was tied for third with veterans Charley Sifford and R. R. (Mac) McLendon, all at 69. Terry Wilcox, Fred Marti, Dave Ragen and Grier Jones, all at 70, rounded out the list of those who managed to break par.

There were more than twice as many who had 80s and up, including a dismal 97 by home pro Wallace Palmer, no relation to Jack Nicklaus, who helped begin this new course, had a par 71.

Ted Sizemore Named NL's Top Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Sizemore, the versatile Los Angeles Dodgers infielder who alternated between shortstop and second base, was named today the Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League.

Sizemore, 24, converted into a shortstop by Manager Walter Alton last spring after spending 1968 in the minors as a catcher, won by a surprisingly large margin in the vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, two from each league city.

The seventh Dodger to win the rookie award received 14 votes in his landslide victory. Coco Laboy, Montreal third baseman, and Al Oliver, Pittsburgh first baseman, each received three votes. Bob Didier, Atlanta catcher, and Larry Hise, Philadelphia outfielder, each drew two votes.

The award, announced by Jack Lang, secretary-treasurer of the writers association, was based on a secret vote that covered only regular season play.

It was the final award of the annual series by the writers, all of which went to players on different clubs.

Lou Piniella of Kansas City was the American League's top rookie. Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota won the American League's Most Valuable Player Award and Willie McCovey of San Francisco won the same MVP honors in the National League.

The Cy Young Award for pitchers was taken by Tom Seaver of New York in the National and shared by Denny McLain of Detroit and Mike Cuellar of Baltimore in the American.

Tigers Play At Sr. High

The basketball game between Circleville and Wilmington will be played Friday night at the Circleville High School gym.

It will be the league opener for both teams as they battle for South Central Ohio League honors.

The reserve game will start at 6:45 p.m.

Defense To Decide Wittenberg Tilt?

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Defense could decide the outcome Saturday when Wittenberg and William Jewell (Mo.), two offensive football powers, clash in the Alonzo Stagg Bowl.

They will be deciding the NCAA's Western regional championship for a 36-state area.

Unbeaten Wittenberg's multiple offense averaged 367 yards in nine victories. William Jewell (9-1) pounded opposition for 388 yards a game.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY Herald Sports Editor

We saw all four county schools perform last weekend and the basketball picture looks bright in all corners. Our teams will prove to be tough opposition to out of county teams and will face their toughest competition when they go against each other.

Our "hats are off" to Dale Lambert of Teays Valley who is really setting the nets on fire. He has hit the cords for 89-points in two games and "may improve."

All teams go again this week and have proven they are worthy of our support. We hope there will be "standing room only" at all the games.

Capital University is relying on some local strength in their basketball campaign this year. Back again is Russ Merrin of Logan Elm who averaged 9.3 points a game last year and set a record from the free throw line in accuracy with 89.7 per cent. Russ figures to be one of the main cogs in the Crusader's machine.

Dave Horst of last year's Tigers is a member of Capital's junior varsity and should see plenty of action.

Our little gem of the week — There has never been a scoreless game played in the American Football League.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville to upset Wilmington . . . Teays Valley over Hamilton Township . . . Teays Valley in a thriller over Westfall . . . Logan Elm to defeat Carroll.

PRO-dictions — Browns over the Bears . . . Bengals over the Bills.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Laurelville Wildcats Beat Southeastern '5', 73-59

The Laurelville Wildcats broke a 30-30 halftime deadlock with a strong second half performance to defeat visiting Southeastern, 73-59, Wednesday.

It was the second time within a week the Wildcats beat the Southeastern quintet, having turned the trick, 74-65, last Friday at Richmond Dale.

Mike Shaw paced the winners, tossing in seven field goals and eight charity shots for a 22-point game high effort.

Shaw also had 11 of Laurelville's 34 rebounds.

THREE other Wildcats broke into double figures. Steve McCabe and Marty Unger scored 12 each and Rick Fast 10. Rounding out the Wildcat scoring were Mike Thompson with eight, Steve Smith with seven and Mike Eveland with two.

For the visitors Prater notched 19 and Skaggs 16. The win was the third for the Wildcats against two losses this season.

From the field Laurelville hit 25 of 67 shots for a 37.3 per cent shooting average. Southeastern converted 20 of 60 attempts, an even 33.3 per cent accuracy rate.

The next game for the Wildcats is at Piketon Dec. 5. It will be the first Scioto Valley Conference game for Laurelville.

In the preliminary game Wednesday, the visiting Southeastern junior varsity won, 41-29.

Grid Forecaster Predicts Los Angeles Over Redskins

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With the National Football League races all but over, pro attention shifts Sunday to the meeting of Oakland and the New York Jets at Shea Stadium, another pairing that could be a preview of the Jan. 4 title game.

On comparative scores it has to be the Raiders all the way. They beat Kansas City last week, 27-24, after the Chiefs had dumped the Jets 34-16 the previous Sunday. However, it doesn't work that way in the pro leagues.

Joe Namath and friends will be up for this one, coming off that 40-7 romp over Cincinnati, but Oakland still remembers that 27-23 loss at Shea last December, a loss that cost them the big Super Bowl check.

Let's take a look at the National Football League and American Football League action for Sunday.

Green Bay 21, New York 14—Packers have lost scoring punch and are hurting with Bart Starr out of action but Giants are vulnerable to the run. Packer defense still tough against the pass. Could be a low scoring game.

New Orleans 26, Philadelphia 24—Flip a coin on this one. Both teams are moving the ball. Bill Kilmer vs. Norm Snead and nobody stops anybody. Defense? Who needs it?

St. Louis 30, Pittsburgh 20—Steelers are staggering with nine-game losing streak and Cardinals are also struggling with feast one week and famine the next. Should be a feast day for Cards.

Boston 21, Miami 17—Patriots seem to have found themselves in recent days while Dolphins are feeble without Bob Griese. Miami won 17-16 Nov. 9 in Boston but things have changed.

Cincinnati 24, Buffalo 21 — O. J. Simpson with a shot at the rushing record will roll it up against Bengals but Greg Cook should find the chinks in the Bills' pass cover. Could go either way and Buffalo does have home edge.

AFL
Oakland 27, New York 24—Raiders coming off a toughie in

The late Red Rolfe batted .329 for the 1939 New York Yankees.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-2086

The Christian Women's Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church met in the church on Nov. 20.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Does Jesus Care" and "God Will Take Care of You," accompanied by Jean Cline.

Mae Alexander read the fourth chapter of James, verses 12-17. Mary Krieger read from the Upper Room and prayer was given by Goldie Hopper.

It was announced that fruit baskets would be filled by members on Dec. 22.

Dorothy Cook read a thank-you note from Med Eccard and a letter from Anna Moss.

The Circle will have a potluck Family Night supper 6:30 p.m. Dec. 11.

Ruth Hartley and Mary Krieger were appointed as the nominating committee. The members signed twenty cards for the ill and also packed and mailed fourteen boxes to boys in the service.

The members joined hands around the Thanksgiving decorated table and sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Table grace was given by Francis Grant.

Refreshments were served by Mildred Messick, Ruth Hartley and Med Eccard.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week: November 19 took Roy Frazier to University Hospital and Nov. 22 took Augustus Wheeler to Mercy Hospital.

Madge Baum and Marilyn Sabine attended the District Convention of the Pythian Sisters of District 20 Saturday at Thurston, Ohio. Others from this district attending were Hazel Thomas, grand chief; Garnet Reichelderfer, grand manager; Kattie Mead, district deputy and Eveline Zwayer, matron of the Medina Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rathburn, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rathburn, Lisa and Teresa and Mrs. Elda Behnke were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rathburn and Kari of Columbus. The occasion was a pre-Thanksgiving family dinner and also marked the birthday of Tom Rathburn.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Frye of Amanda and Miss Doris Cook were guests at a Golden Wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Riley of Nelsonville, Ohio, on Sunday.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Catherine Leycauls of Circleville and Miss Doris Cook were guests of Mrs. Opal Shupe of Lancaster.

Mr. Robert Caplinger returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oakes, Wednesday from Grant Hospital where he had been confined for the past several weeks following a car-truck accident.

Results of the Ashville Belles Bowling League for November 18 were High single game and series, Gladys West 188 and 527; High team game, Featheringhams 624 and High team series, Morrison's Market 1766.

Results for November 25 were: High single game and series, Bea Smith 214 and 521; High team, game and series, Morrison's Market, 652 and 1862.

Mrs. James (Virginia) Courtwright is now at her home after undergoing major surgery in Grant Hospital recently. She is recuperating nicely and at this time would like to thank each and everyone who remembered her with cards, flowers and other acts of kindness during her illness.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will have a pie sale at Boyd's Leathergoods Store on Saturday, December 6 beginning at 9 a.m. Orders are being taken for any special pies you may wish by Shirley Thompson, Shirley Rathburn or Mary Helen Miller. An assortment of pies will be on sale at the store that morning.

The November meeting of the Teays Valley Music Boosters was called to order by the president, Ken Richards with eight in attendance.

President Richards expressed his thanks to everyone that helped with the marching band party on November 7. It was felt that the party was a success since all had a good time.

Congratulatory signs (in Italian) greeted the members as they entered the cafeteria that evening. These were ably made by Dick Pobst. We hope that they, the band members, learned how proud the parents were of them all. Entertainment consisted of dancing to records the first hour and then by the stage band, The Vikings of Note, for the remainder of the evening.

Games were also played by some attending. The tables had checked cloths with candles in bottles making the light. Pizza was served late in the evening along with various "snacks" brought by the youngsters to complete the Italian theme.

The High School Choir was treated to a swim party at the Imperial House in Columbus after a concert at the Robtown

Church recently. They were hosted to refreshments afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kibby. Mrs. Kibby is the choral instructor at the high school.

The up-coming Dinner Concert was discussed and Mrs. Harold Peters was named as the general chairman of the event. The dinner will be held on Sunday, January 25, 1970.

The band traveled to Orient Nov. 23 to play at the dedication of the new post office there.

The next meeting will be held on the regular date, Dec. 15. It is hoped that all members will attend to help plan the Dinner-Concert. Parents of choir members are urged to attend as they are included in the Music Boosters Organization. Time is 8 p.m. in the music room.

The Pythian Sisters will meet in the K of P Hall December 2 for the regular meeting. Election of officers will be held at this time.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-2086

The Christian Women's Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church met in the church on Nov. 20.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Does Jesus Care" and "God Will Take Care of You," accompanied by Jean Cline.

Mae Alexander read the fourth chapter of James, verses 12-17. Mary Krieger read from the Upper Room and prayer was given by Goldie Hopper.

It was announced that fruit baskets would be filled by members on Dec. 22.

Dorothy Cook read a thank-you note from Med Eccard and a letter from Anna Moss.

The Circle will have a potluck Family Night supper 6:30 p.m. Dec. 11.

Ruth Hartley and Mary Krieger were appointed as the nominating committee. The members signed twenty cards for the ill and also packed and mailed fourteen boxes to boys in the service.

The members joined hands around the Thanksgiving decorated table and sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Table grace was given by Francis Grant.

Refreshments were served by Mildred Messick, Ruth Hartley and Med Eccard.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week: November 19 took Roy Frazier to University Hospital and Nov. 22 took Augustus Wheeler to Mercy Hospital.

Madge Baum and Marilyn Sabine attended the District Convention of the Pythian Sisters of District 20 Saturday at Thurston, Ohio. Others from this district attending were Hazel Thomas, grand chief; Garnet Reichelderfer, grand manager; Kittie Mead, district deputy and Eveline Zwyer, matron of the Medina Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rathburn, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rathburn, Lisa and Teresa and Mrs. Elda Behnke were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rathburn and Kari of Columbus. The occasion was a pre-Thanksgiving family dinner and also marked the birthday of Tom Rathburn.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Frye of Amanda and Miss Doris Cook were guests at a Golden Wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Riley of Nelsonville, Ohio, on Sunday.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Catherine Leycauls of Circleville and Miss Doris Cook were guests of Mrs. Opal Shupe of Lancaster.

Mr. Robert Caplinger returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oakes, Wednesday from Grant Hospital where he had been confined for the past several weeks following a car-truck accident.

Results of the Ashville Belles Bowling League for November 18 were High single game and series, Gladys West 188 and 527; High team game, Featherhams 624 and High team series, Morrison's Market 1766.

Results for November 25 were: High single game and series, Bea Smith 214 and 521; High team, game and series, Morrison's Market, 652 and 1862.

Mrs. James (Virginia) Courtright is now at her home after undergoing major surgery in Grant Hospital recently. She is recuperating nicely and at this time would like to thank each and everyone who remembered her with cards, flowers and other acts of kindness during her illness.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will have a pie sale at Boyd's Leathergoods Store on Saturday, December 6 beginning at 9 a.m. Orders are being taken for any special pies you may wish by Shirley Thompson, Shirley Rathburn or Mary Helen Miller. An assortment of pies will be on sale at the store that morning.

The November meeting of the Teays Valley Music Boosters was called to order by the president, Ken Richards with eight in attendance.

President Richards expressed his thanks to everyone that helped with the marching band party on November 7. It was felt that the party was a success since all had a good time.

Congratulatory signs (in Italian) greeted the members as they entered the cafeteria that evening. These were ably made by Dick Pobst. We hope that they, the band members, learned how proud the parents were of them all. Entertainment consisted of dancing to records the first hour and then by the stage band, The Vikings of Note, for the remainder of the evening.

Games were also played by some attending. The tables had checked cloths with candles in bottles making the light. Pizza was served late in the evening along with various "snacks" brought by the youngsters to complete the Italian theme.

The High School Choir was treated to a swim party at the Imperial House in Columbus after a concert at the Robtown

Church recently. They were hosted to refreshments afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kibby. Mrs. Kibby is the choral instructor at the high school.

The up-coming Dinner Concert was discussed and Mrs. Harold Peters was named as the general chairman of the event. The dinner will be held on Sunday, January 25, 1970.

The band traveled to Orient Nov. 23 to play at the dedication of the new post office there.

The next meeting will be held on the regular date, Dec. 15. It is hoped that all members will attend to help plan the Dinner-Concert. Parents of choir members are urged to attend as they are included in the Music Boosters Organization. Time is 8 p.m. in the music room.

The Pythian Sisters will meet in the K of P Hall December 2 for the regular meeting. Election of officers will be held at this time.

The Past Chiefs Club will meet in the home of Mona Morrison on Dec. 1. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. followed by a gift exchange. Members attending are also asked to bring a white elephant gift to be used as prizes for games.
